ATTICA, N.Y. (UPI)—More than 1,000 State Police and sheriffs' deputies stormed Attica State Prison today with guns blazing in an effort to liberate 38 hostages held by rebellious convicts for five days.

First reports said that nine hostages were killed and 29 hostages released.

Related state prison stories on page 3.

As police moved in, helicopters dropped tear gas on the cellblock where the insurgent convicts had holed up.

Prison officials said they learned that underground tunnels connecting the cell blocks had been wired with explosives. They ordered everyone out of the buildings and then cut the electric power leading to the area.

One trooper described the scene in the besieged cellblock as "horrible—just unbelievable." The bodies of several hostages were lying in the halls, he said.

One released hostage said a convict held a knife at his throat for more than an hour. "I prayed and prayed," he said. "The others were not so fortunate."

The convicts had threatened to kill the 27 guards and 11 civilians if amnesty demands were not met. Authorities rejected the demands.

The massive attack on the gray walls began in heavy rain when a small helicopter flew over one corner of Cellblock D to divert the prisoners' attention. Then, two large helicopters moved directly over the cellblock, dropping tear gas.

At the same time troopers and deputies moved inside the high walls.

A dozen troopers and guards, suffering from tear gas, were hospitalized. Other tower guards wore gas masks.

Outside the main gate, prison officials read off the names of hostages as they were released. Two women relatives of the hostages began crying as their names were read.

A plea went out for "all available ambulances" to come to the scene to carry out the "suffering and the injured."

The massive assault on the gray walls began when a small helicopter flew over one corner of cellblock "D" to divert the prisoners' attention. Then, two large Army helicopters moved directly over the cellblock, pelting it with tear gas.

At the same time, 1,000 troopers and deputies moved inside the walls. Twenty minutes later, a National Guard artillery battalion, with Red Cross ambulances, moved in to reinforce.

"Surrender peacefully, you will not be harmed," a loud speaker blared as the tear gas was being pumped into the cellblock. "Surrender the hostages. Surrender the hostages. Lie down on the floor and put your hands on your head."

A heavy rain fell as the police stormed the prison. News men were told to stay back and keep under cover.

Helicopters flew over the main entrances of the prison and lower guards were wearing gas masks or holding handkerchiefs over their faces. A state trooper without a gasmask was helped out of the prison.

News men reported there was an exchange of gunfire within the prison where the rebellious convicts were holding out.

The move on the prison came nearly two hours after State Correction Commissioner Russell G. Oswald issued an ultimatum to the prisoners to surrender the hostages.

A standoff had existed since about two hours after an estimated 1,000 convicts began rioting at mid-morning Thursday. Tension increased Sunday when Black Panther Party Chairman Bobby G. Seale walked out on negotiations, claiming officials would not let him take part in the talks unless he tried to persuade the inmates to surrender.

A short time later hundreds of police mobilized at the high-walled prison. High-pressure hose lines were dragged into position and a fourth helicopter with riot control equipment was landed outside the prison.

Prisoners have demanded amnesty from criminal prosecution from all acts that occurred since the takeover, including the death of guard William Quinn, 28. Quinn died Saturday of injuries after he was beaten and thrown out of a second-story window Thursday.

Vast Highway Plan Offered for County

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON A new highway plan for Ulster County was presented to the Ulster County Legislature in which Herbert Hekler, county planning director, warns that the state is evaluating its highways and as a consequence, many miles of state roads in Ulster County may be turned over to the county.

He said that there are about 86 miles of state roads here which are candidates for being abandoned by the state.

Hekler suggested that in view of the critical shortage of funds, we will have to be extremely careful in assigning county funds for road maintenance and improvement to make sure that our expenditures do the most good for the most people.

"We will simply not be able to continue to afford to maintain and plow roads which serve no county interest."

In the County Planning Board's analysis of county roads, it concluded that there were many miles under county jurisdiction which do not serve the county interests. Examples include dead-end roads such as Morgan Hill Road in West Hurley, loop roads such as River Road in Esopus and Decker Road in Shawangunk and local streets which do not serve inter-county travel or other county road criteria.

Recommendations for the main arterial system of state roads were also made by Hekler who said the most significant one would be the development of a new highway in Kingston to alleviate congestion on Broadway.

This would be accomplished by connecting the Thruway and Col. Chandler Drive with the proposed Kingston Arterial at Delaware Avenue. This could be achieved, he said, by using the railroad right of way just north of Broadway which now has little train traffic.

Other major proposals include the development of a new limited access highway from Kingston to Saugerties. In this way conflicts between vehicles destined for shopping centers on Route 9W and through traffic would be eliminated. The planners suggest that the new road bear west of Saugerties to join Kingston Highway and the Thruway interchange, rather than trying to "crash through the middle of the village." By bearing west, both north-south and east-west traffic would be aided. In addition, the industrial areas along Kings Highway would be better connected to the residential areas of Barclay Heights and Glasco.

Proposals to improve east-west traffic in the village of New Paltz include a new limited access road south of the village from the Thruway along the lower portion of the State College property. A new road from Duzine School to Putts Corners Road is also recommended. To alleviate north-south traffic, the plan calls for directing traffic from Routes 32 and 208 to Putts Corners Road.

This is urged, Hekler said, because Putts Corners Road will undoubtedly have much more industrial and commercial development in the future and provides direct access to the Thruway. In effect it would become the main north-south state highway in New Paltz.

Other major highway proposals discussed were an entire new alignment for Route 209, a new location for Route 212 around the northerly portion of Woodstock to connect the new Wilson State Park, a new alignment of Route 208 to bypass Wallkill, improvement of Chapel Hill Road to divert through traffic from Highland and bypasses around Stone Ridge, Kerhonkson and Napanoch.

Hekler said it would take many years before the new roads could be built. In the meantime, he suggested, the most important action needed is to preserve the traffic capacity of existing highways as much as possible. This means the town must accept their responsibilities in land use controls to prevent strip commercial development and a haphazard residential construction.

proposals are weighted too heavily in favor of business.

Mills indicated that whether he pushes for an increase in personal exemptions this year will depend on what happens to a Social Security bill already passed by the House.

If the bill is approved by the Senate, as expected, the maximum payroll tax paid by a worker and his employer would increase $145 in 1972 over this year's level.

For many workers, this would more than offset the income-tax reduction that would be provided by Nixon's proposal to advance by one year tax bills due in 1973, a $50 increase in the personal exemption.

In other developments over the weekend: The committee chairman indicated he may share Meany's views that Nixon's tax relief $100,000 and should apply to the purchase of used equipment as well as new. He asked that small businesses be exempted from any price or profit controls that might follow the current freeze, due to expire Nov. 13.

Mills disclosed over the weekend he is considering two major breaks for the individual taxpayer beyond what Nixon has proposed.

Mills said he is considering a temporary cut in income-tax rates and advancing to tax bills due next April 15 a personal-exemption increase Nixon has asked to take effect a year later.

The committee chairman indicated he may share Meany's views that Nixon's tax relief

Nixon Holds Economic Meetings

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon called in his Cabinet and business executives today for separate discussions of his new economic program, while AFL-CIO President George Meany went to Capitol Hill to talk about more individual tax relief.

Nixon summoned members of his Cabinet and their wives to discuss his anti-inflation moves. A meeting with 11 business leaders was to follow later today.

At the Capitol, meanwhile, the House Ways and Means Committee resumed hearings on Nixon's tax-reduction proposals—with strong indications from Chairman Wilbur D. Mills that they will be broadened to provide substantially greater income-tax relief for individuals.

Listed among the first witnesses was Meany, who has criticized the 90-day wage-price-rent-freeze portion of the administration's program.

Meany and several other labor leaders met with Nixon last week to discuss what should come after the freeze, the subject of today's discussions with the businessmen.

One of the participants in today's White House meeting, President Wilson Johnson of the National Federation of Independent Business, expressed opposition to a 10-per-cent investment credit proposed by Nixon at the same time he announced the freeze.

Johnson said smaller businesses "applaud in principal" the concept of an investment credit but took the position that Nixon's proposal is "rigged too heavily in favor of the big corporations."

Johnson said the credit should be limited to the first

Another Salt Pile in Ulster County — It's a Possibility

By MORT LAFFIN

SAUGERTIES Another salt pile in Ulster County?

This possibility, and others, came to light at the recent meeting of the Saugerties Town Board.

A group of concerned citizens approached the Board on news that the Morton Salt Company, Chicago, Illinois, had leased some acreage in the Mt. Marion area to be used as a stockpile for road salt; the kind used by highway departments to melt ice and snow on roads during the winter months.

The discussion of the salt pile immediately brings to mind the Morton Salt pile that has been situated on Tremper Avenue in Kingston. Controversy on this pile has raged for the better part of two years. And, promises, charges and counter-charges have filled the air. However, up till now, nothing has been done.

The situation in Saugerties becomes interesting from the standpoint of citizens in the Tremper Avenue area.

Is Morton Salt going to move the pile from Tremper Avenue to Mt. Marion? Or, does the company mean to have two large piles of salt? Or, do they mean to have two minimal-size piles of salt?

Special

According to Town of Saugerties Supervisor A. Michael Schovel, Mrs. Warren D. Myer, mother of town councilman Francis V. Myer, leased the property to the company.

The citizens in the area of Mt. Marion are concerned with the idea that the salt might "leak or seep into the ground," causing trouble in the water wells.

Schovel said that the board had been told that a blacktop pad and gutter system would be built by the company to stop any seepage.

Mrs. Myer stated that she had dealt right with the Chicago office of the salt company.

"We have a lease for property, two acres, near the Penn-Central spur at Mt. Marion. I can only say that everything will be done to ensure the safety of my fellow citizens, the community and environment," she stated.

In the meantime, Kingston Councilman Michael S. Perry (D-7th Ward) said he is hoping that the salt pile will be moved.

"Hurley Sand and Gravel Co., Inc. work the salt pile for the Morton people. They haven't started to stockpile any salt at the Tremper Avenue site as yet," stated Perry. "If they do I'm going after them with the injunction I obtained two years ago."

The people on Tremper Avenue have always complained about the salt, saying, among other things, that the salt seepage, and the wind blowing it around, had caused copper water pipes, sewer pipes, aluminum siding, window trimmings, etc. to corrode and rot.

I had people from the New York State Board of Health come down and inspect the area," said Perry. "And, what they saw supported our claims that the salt pile was detrimental to the area. The Health Department representatives told me that they would support us in any action we would take. If they try to stockpile salt on Tremper Avenue this year, I'm going to take them to court, concluded Perry.

There had also been some talk that the salt pile would be moved to the area of South Clinton, Barmann and Wilbur Avenues. However, a petition by citizens in this area apparently stopped that move.

On the possibility of the city salt pile being moved to the newly-acquired area in Saugerties, Joseph Schrowang, contractor for the salt operation stated: "I don't know what, if anything, this means to the Tremper Avenue area. I know about the Saugerties site. But, I don't know if there will be one in the area or two. In fact, I'd rather not comment on the situation at this time. If anything happens, the public will be informed."

Governors Hear Plea

Close Ranks, Agnew's Advice

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — after midnight, and the third Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and loudest was heard shortly afterward.

He told the nation's governors the administration is open to ideas, and is searching for improvements in President Nixon's new economic policy. "We all want the new prosperity, without inflation and without war," he said in a speech prepared for the 63rd National Governors Conference. "No party and no political leader has a monopoly on wisdom or an exclusive on the common goals of all Americans."

Agnew disputed Democratic labor charges that the tax measures recommended by Nixon are unfairly weighted in favor of big business and the affluent. "The facts are that the President has proposed a balanced tax package," he said.

And he dismissed the assertion of critics that profits should have been frozen along with wages and prices. He said profits produce taxes, and encourage the productivity that can conquer inflation.

"Let me say the unsayable," Agnew said. "Rising corporate profits are good for the average man, and are needed more than ever by the poor."

While he defended the Nixon program, Agnew said it "was not handed down from Mt. Olympus; it should be subject to the most searching analysis and where it can be improved, it should and will be improved."

Agnew told the conference Nixon has invited its executive committee to meet with him on Thursday at the White House

"in order that you may fully participate in helping plan the phase of the system of wage and price stabilization that will follow the present phase."

He said Nixon wants to discuss with the nine committee members the system of economic restraints that will be instituted after the current wage-price freeze ends on Nov. 12.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri, the conference chairman, complained of a breakdown in relations between state and federal government. The executive committee Sunday asked Agnew to take full charge of liaison and state problems with Washington. Hearnes said Agnew agreed.

"We need a troubleshooter," said Hearnes.

President Nixon already had designated Agnew his administration's liaison man with governors, but the assignment had been handled day-to-day by Nils A. Roe, former governor of South Dakota, who resigned to become a judge of the U.S. Customs Court.

Hearnes told the governors today that Congress and the federal bureaucracy have been unwilling to fashion a new partnership with the states.

"Instead of a new federalism, we are witnessing an accelerating and adverse alteration of existing intergovernmental relationships in this country," the Missouri Democrat said.

Nixon, meanwhile, acted to reassure the governors that the administration is not shelving—although it is postponing—the welfare reform and revenue-sharing programs most of them advocate.

Trouble Times as N.Y. Schools Open

NEW YORK (AP) — The doors of 933 public schools open here today to welcome 1,166,000 students from a summer of stickball in the streets and swimming at the beaches.

The nation's biggest school system was beset by difficulties from the start.

Its budget was $75 million below the amount sought by Chancellor Harvey B. Scribner in his second year on the job.

Its enrollment increased by 23,000, while the number of its teachers declined by 5,000 to about 56,000.

Its teaching staff is unhappy about the likelihood that $950 pay raises due Oct. 1 will be frozen.

Its students could be without bus service after Wednesday because of a rise in the cost of bus contracts.

"It is difficult to view the coming school year with optimism or hope," said Mrs. Blanche Lewis, president of the United Parents Association.

For the second year, Chancellor Scribner will have to cope with balky school districts, which claim that hundreds of teachers are being unnecessarily laid off because of a budget squeeze.

Some district officials have threatened to keep them on in defiance of orders by the Board of Education.

After a seven-week teachers' strike in 1968, a decentralization plan provided that these 31 locally elected school boards would have general operating authority over schools below the high school level.

"Year 2 is the time for some delivery," said Scribner.

The bus companies, pleading imminent bankruptcy, have warned they will cease service on Wednesday unless exemption from the 90-day price freeze allows the board to pay $7 million more for the current bus contracts.

To help finance the increase, the board eliminated reduced public transit fare passes for students who live too far from school to walk there easily and too close to be bused.

Now these students must pay an extra $11 a month.

The schools this year have again begun a battle against drug abuse.

A $4.7 million drug program includes the placement of a drug education specialist in each high school, the assignment of specialists and paraprofessionals to key schools and an expansion of a "peer group leadership program."

Scribner said, "I'm tired of treating only the top of the iceberg."

A new undertaking will be the establishment of a "learning cooperative," which Scribner describes as a center where the local districts can pinpoint and encourage educational innovations. Teacher training and retraining will also be carried out there, he says.

Other new programs include "satellite" schools for students unable to adjust to traditional educational systems, career development academies and full-fledged evening high schools for working students.

Prison Guards in Protest

By United Press International

Guards in major state prisons, edgy over developments in the Attica State Correctional Facility where convicts have held 38 persons, including 27 guards, hostage since Thursday, are protesting problems in their institutions.

At Green Haven State Correctional Facility in Stormville, guards staged a six-hour work slowdown Sunday.

At Elmira, a top trouble shooter with the State Corrections Department conferred for many hours with officials at the facility there following verbal protests by a guards' union.

At Auburn, members of the guards union held a lengthy meeting to consider steps they might take to protect themselves from incidents such as at Attica, where one guard is dead of injuries suffered when the convicts began rioting.

John L. Zelker, superintendent of the maximum security Green Haven prison said the guards' slowdown was not a protest against the administration.

"This is a protest by the officers triggered by the death of that young officer at Attica. The officers here want assurance that they won't be used as pawns in case trouble should break out here and hostages are taken. They want us to assure them that we would jump right in and get them out.

"I can't give them a written promise. I can only give them what personal assurance I can that I will do everything in my power to help them in the event of trouble here," he said.

William Quinn, 28, a guard at Attica, died Saturday of head injuries suffered when he was thrown from a second-story window as inmates rioted there Thursday.

The slowdown began as guards escorted inmates to breakfast. Instead of feeding the usual 1,000 at one sitting a single cell block of about 250 men was brought in, and had to complete their meal before the others could enter the mess hall.

The guards resumed their normal schedules following the prisoners' noon meal.

Green Haven houses nearly 2,000 prisoners. Zelker said it and Attica are the largest correctional facilities in the state.

At Elmira, Harold Butler, superintendent of the Wallkill Reformatory, met with Elmira Superintendent Daniel Damon, and members of Local 1240, Security Unit, Council 82, AFL-CIO.

At issue is a number of assaults on guards there by inmates at the facility. Local 1240 president Earl Moulthrop said this has prompted the union to lose confidence in the administration, especially Damon, who is slated for retirement Nov. 1. Moulthrop also said a lack of personnel is another reason for the trouble.

So far, one inmate has been indicted by a Chemung County grand jury on an assault charge stemming from a prison attack, and two others are awaiting grand jury action. Friday, William Waite, an Elmira guard, received minor injuries after allegedly being assaulted by a prisoner identified only as Ricky King.

Hostages Urge Amnesty Grant

ATTICA, N.Y. (UPI) — Hostages at the Attica prison urged Governor Rockefeller Sunday to come to the prison and grant "total amnesty" to rioting inmates who have held them captive four days.

In taped interviews with pool reporters, four of the 38 hostages also said they were being well treated, and had not been coerced into their statements.

Rockefeller said Sunday he could not constitutionally grant amnesty and that he did not think his presence would help the situation.

The remarks were made in front of several hundred prisoners in the football field-sized courtyard where the rebels have held control since Thursday morning.

"We're being treated 100 percent," said a man identifying himself as Correction Officer Frank Strollo. "We've been fed well, and we've slept on mattresses, when the prisoners had none."

"It's agreed among all 38 of the hostages that the prisoners should be given complete and total amnesty," he said, "and that's what we want Rockefeller to give them."

A guard identified as Michael Smith, was more emphatic. "I suggest he (Rockefeller) get his ass over here now," Smith said to cheers of "right on."

"I haven't been coached to say this, and I haven't been pressured by anyone," he said. Smith, one of the youngest hostages, said he has a wife and five-month-old daughter.

Another hostage, Art Smith, said "these people couldn't do anymore for us than they have done." He said the hostages were neither "sick nor injured."

A fourth guard, Sgt. Edward Cunningham, said only total amnesty would solve the situation.

"Anything else short of this is just as good as dropping dead," Cunningham said.

County Jail Is Overcrowded, Occupancy Records Are Broken

KINGSTON

All records for jail occupancy in Ulster County were broken last week as 103 prisoners were crowded into the 42-man facility on Wall Street in Kingston.

"We're taking care of them the best we can," Head Jailer Sgt. Marshall Canosa said. "We have them sleeping all over the place."

Sheriff William B. Martin attributes the increased jail population to the increased number of narcotics arrests during the past year.

Canosa said that as a result of the extreme crowding of the jail, problems of security have arisen and extra deputies have had to be put on duty in order to keep a constant watch.

Criminal cases are not the only thing on the upswing. Sheriff Martin said, revealing that civil executions are greatly increased in recent months with 130 more recorded in July and August of this year than last.

This he attributes to the problems in the nation's economy. Cognizant of the need for a bigger and better facility, the Ulster County Legislature voted this past year to build a new $3.1 million jail on Golden Hill where a new infirmary is presently under construction. Ground was broken at the site recently.

In 1966 Ulster County was told to close its present antiquated jail by the State Commission of Correction. In July of 1965, Assemblyman Bertram Podell (D-Brooklyn), chairman of the State Joint Legislative Committee on Penal Institutions, termed the Ulster County Jail "a house of despair."

Panther Leader Visits With Inmates at Attica

DAILY CITY, Calif. (AP) — Black Panther Chairman Bobby Seale said Sunday night that he would fly to New York's Attica State Prison will not release hostage guards until "all political prisoners," including Angela Davis and the Soledad Brothers — or else they will not release the guards," Seale told a news conference at Garry's home here.

The Black Panther co-founder said he returned to the San Francisco Bay Area to deliver a message from the prisoners to the Black Panther Central Committee. He and Garry are returning to Attica at the request of the Central Committee, he said.

Seale had visited with several hundred inmates at the prison Saturday to discuss a series of 27 demands issued to prison officials.

"The prisoners demand that all political prisoners be released from Attica and from all prisons; beginning with Chief of Staff David Hilliard, Chip Fitzgerald, Angela Davis, Russell Megee and the Soledad Brothers — or else they will not release the guards," Seale told a news conference at Garry's home here.

The Black Panther co-founder said he returned to the San Francisco Bay Area to deliver a message from the prisoners to the Black Panther Central Committee. He and Garry are returning to Attica at the request of the Central Committee, he said.

Sidewalk Sale Slated For Rhinebeck Village

RHINEBECK
The first sidewalk sale in recent history in the Village of Rhinebeck has been scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 25.

Merchants from the business district have decided to band together to offer their best bargains on the sidewalks of East and West Market Streets and Mill and Montgomery Streets from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on that day.

The idea was conceived during recent weeks with a thought to putting the sale over before cold weather hits the area.

A special meeting was held recently at the office of the Rhinebeck Chamber of Commerce to finalize plans for the event, designed to remind shoppers of the many services and items available within walking or easy driving distance from their homes.

It will be up to the individual merchants to set up their own displays, and it is anticipated that the air of a bazaar will prevail along the primary business thoroughfares of Rhinebeck.

Almost all merchants are expected to take part, mixing some contemporary stock from their respective stores with some real bargains in out-of-season items.

While all businesses are not of the characters to participate in a sidewalk sale, such as banks and liquor stores, support has been expressed from some of these segments to the idea of capitalizing on the small-shop atmosphere in downtown Rhinebeck.

Chamber of Commerce President Helen Z. Battistoni told The Freeman that she personally heartily endorsed the plan and has encouraged participation. And she has added that, while she had not yet had an official endorsement from Chamber members at the time she was interviewed, she felt sure that this was the type of activity which would be endorsed by the Chamber as a whole.

Among those attending the coordinating session were Victoria Forbes of Vicki's, Lloyd Kanter of the Hudson Valley Department Store; Lennie Traudt and Mrs. Santepadre of De's Jewelers; Fred Kilmer of Kilmer's IGA; Charles LaForge of the Beekman Arms Hotel and Gift Shop; Ernie Cotting of Cotting's Flower Shop; Helen Battistoni of Battistoni Real Estate; and Hayman Miller of The Freeman Shopper.

There has been a heightened realization the past two years among Rhinebeck businessmen and women that they must unify in preserving the business climate in a manner compatible to their immediate environment. This has been brought about through the initiation of a town-wide zoning law and some attempted updating of the village zoning; through the fact that several businesses have left the downtown area for expansion along major highways, especially to the north on Route 9; and perhaps most poignantly through an independent study completed this spring by Dutchess Community College which sought to point out the positive and negative aspects of shopping found in Rhinebeck.

One of the suggestions of that survey was that the small, intimate shops capitalize on their flair. Several small, specialized shops have sprung up over the past two years, and others have moved and redone the building exteriors.

And there are plans afoot to tear down several buildings on the north side of East Market Street and construct a small shopping mall sometime within the next two years or so.

This sale is an indication that the businessmen mean business.

UCCC to Offer Unusual Courses

STONE RIDGE
Ulster County Community College this fall will offer some unusual and some not unusual courses in its credit-free program. These courses which are designed for enjoyment and enrichment are funded solely by tuition fees from participants.

Included under the heading of unusual courses are: Calligraphy, Graphology, Astrology, Ghosts and Haunted Homes in the Hudson Valley, Cheeses and Wines and Gourmet Cooking to name a few, according to Ronald A. Koster, director of the Center for Continuing Education.

Calligraphy, the art of fine hand lettering, will be taught by Franz Heigener.

A Short History of Jazz will be taught by Herbert L. Schultz, who has been collecting jazz recordings and writing about them since the 1930's.

Graphology, handwriting analysis, will be taught by Johanna K. Vos, a graduate of the Pellman Institute of Graphology in Leyden, Holland.

Astrology, a beginner's course designed to introduce the student to the fundamental principles of astrology, will be taught by Tom McKee.

Gourmet Cooking will be taught by John Novi, the operator of the Dupuy Canal Tavern in High Falls and his chef, William Smith. The course will be offered at the tavern, and the participants will have the opportunity at the end of each class to enjoy the evenings labors.

Ghosts and Haunted Homes in the Hudson Valley, which will deal with strange and unusual phenomenon related to things like ESP, para-psychology and witchcraft, will be taught by James W. Orser.

Basic Horse Care will be taught by Pat Jacobson, who is the author of the book, "A Horse Around the House." This course will have laboratory sessions on Saturdays at Cross View Farm in Accord.

Alfred G. Moses, a pilot and advanced ground instructor, will teach the Private Pilot Ground School course, which is designed to help students pass the F.A.A.'s written examination.

Basic Photography will be taught at the Onteora Central School by Donald Jennings, who taught photography there for ten years.

How to Sell What You Write will be taught by Robert Burg, who has edited books and magazines for the Charlton Publishing Company.

A variety of courses in the field of art will be included in the autumn semester. Some of these are Picture Frames and Finishes, Stained Glass, Filmmaking, Furniture Design and Woodworking, Hand Weaving, Pottery Making, Figure and Portrait Painting, and Serigraphy.

Other general interest courses being offered include Memory Improvement, Paying for College, Tax Workshop for Individuals, Impromptu

Application Fee Frozen

STONE RIDGE
The fee for making application to one or more of the 48 State University campuses, including Ulster County Community College, which are members of its Uniform Admissions Program will remain at $5 for students seeking to begin classes in January and September of 1972.

The announcement was made by the State University today following a decision by the Office of Emergency Preparedness that a planned increase in the fee to $15 was not allowable under the national wage-price freeze.

State University had acted to increase the fee in late June, in order to cover more fully the cost of admissions processing.

Readers Write Editor

September 9, 1971
Second High School
 Editor, The Freeman:
 Today is the first full of school. Along with the rest of the parent population we breathe a sigh of relief and regret. Regret because the summer is over and relief because our children will be channeling their energies into school.

Speak to any parent these days and they will talk about their anxiety about directions their children are following. We all agree that we'd like our children to finish school and become responsible, upright citizens. A fine idea! Then we send them to Kingston High School, into a building so stuffed with students that storage closets are being converted to classrooms.

If, as we tell our children, education is important, why do we show our contempt for it by providing crowded, uncomfortable, overburdened facilities for learning?

I went to Kingston High School 30 years ago when it was the right size for us. Its not made of rubber walls. If you didn't stretch it you did the next thing — you crunched up the children.

What are our plans? Do we wait for the miseries of split shifts?

Or do we show our youth that we are sincere about education as the other parties.

Majority Continue to Oppose Busing; Opposition Declines

PRINCETON, N.J., Sept. 11 — The overwhelming majority of Americans continue to oppose busing, but opposition has declined since 1970, particularly among certain key groups in the population.

In the latest survey 18 per cent of all persons say they favor the busing of black and white children from one school district to another, a plan that has been proposed as a means of achieving racial balance in the nation's classrooms. Three in four persons (76 per cent) express opposition.

In the previous survey, taken in March, 1970, 14 per cent said they favored busing, while 81 per cent expressed opposition.

Change Found in Both North & South

The decline in opposition since 1970 has come about among both blacks and whites and in the South as well as the North. One of the sharpest increases in support is found among college trained persons, with the Negro and white children from

Mine Workers Trial May Change Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trial news conference to "swear by opens here today in the federal government's attempt to overturn the 1969 election of W.A. "Tony" Boyle as president of the United Mine Workers of America.

The Labor Department suit accuses the union leadership of intimidation, election fraud and using union funds "to promote the candidacy of its incumbent international officers."

In addition to the UMW presidency, at stake in the civil suit before U.S. Dist. Court Judge William B. Bryant are the jobs of almost the entire Boyle hierarchy, including Vice President George Titler and Secretary-Treasurer John Owens. They ran on Boyle's ticket.

Boyle claims the election for the leadership of the 200,000-member union was fair and square.

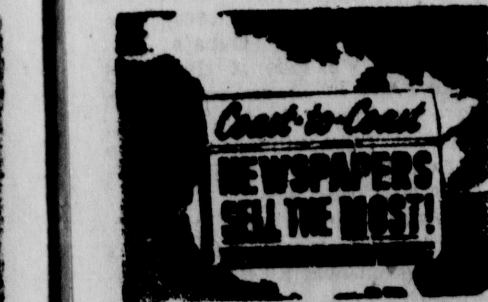

The bushy-browed labor kingpin is only the third UMW president since the late John L. Lewis started a 40-year reign in 1920. When Lewis retired in 1960, he picked UMW Vice President Thomas Kennedy to succeed him.

After Kennedy in 1963, Lewis promoted Boyle, his fiery personal assistant, into the $50,000-a-year job. Lewis was the power behind the throne until he died in 1968.

Boyle's major troubles started in 1969 when former union troubleshooter, Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski, broke away from the established leadership to challenge Boyle for the union presidency. Yablonski had been on the UMW's executive board.

The day after the Dec. 9 election, Boyle claimed victory to a second five-year term, saying he polled 80,618 votes to Yablonski's 45,515.

A few weeks later Yablonski, his wife and daughter were shot to death in their Clarksville, Pa., home. Boyle called a

Equal Time
 Editor, The Freeman:

I see where the House of Representatives is to act on a bill that would nullify the "equal time" provision and prevent the Socialist Labor Party and other minority parties from having their candidates heard and seen on TV and radio.

Former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg said regarding equal time:

"The statute reflects a deep congressional conviction that in our free democratic system all qualified candidates should be given equally free access to broadcasting facilities regardless of office and regardless of financial means if any candidate is granted free time."

I fail to see why there should be any objections to equal time as its aim is basically for a well-informed electorate.

There isn't any reason why the voters should be denied the right to be well informed by knowing the views of the Socialist Labor Party as well as the other parties.

Get Out and Vote
 Editor, The Freeman:

The right to vote for the candidate of your choice is a great privilege. There are many people in the world who do not have this right. Sad to say there are many Americans who do not exercise their right to vote.

Election day is Tuesday, November 2nd. Have you completed the necessary registration required to enable you to vote? Last registration dates are Saturday, September 25th 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday, October 2nd 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Get out and vote on November 2nd. Bad politicians are elected by good people that stay home.

Congress' Turn on Economy

Congress reconvened September 8, after Labor Day, and already there are indications that it will try to make quick and effective its turn on stimulating the economy to cut inflation and raise employment.

Representative Wilbur D. Mills, Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is ready to move President Nixon's emergency tax program through the House in rapid order. But he is setting a price. He wants an "incomes" policy—one that would continue to restrain wages and prices—and a lid on government spending.

Mills would advance Mr. Nixon's proposal, for all taxpayers, of a $50 increase in personal tax exemptions January 1, 1972, and supplement it with an additional increase of $1,000 minimum deduction, to benefit families with low incomes.

The chairman said he did not know whether the $50 break, by itself, was sufficiently large or soon enough to stimulate the economy as Mr. Nixon had foreseen. He personally would have preferred to do more for people in the lower brackets, because such people are hardest hit by inflation and because they undoubtedly would spend all of any additional dollars they may save through tax deductions.

Senator Russell B. Long, Louisiana Democrat, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, suggested that Congress might want to make the increased deductions retroactive to July 1, the beginning of the current fiscal year, six months earlier than Mr. Nixon had proposed. He also said Congress might vote for larger tax cuts as well as a quicker one.

The distinct impression gained from the chairmen of the two tax-writing committees of Congress is that they were ready and anxious to provide the income tax cut the President had requested. They were pretty sure the Congress would do all in its power to help keep the stabilization program rolling.

Little was said about Mr. Nixon's parallel requests, for repeal of the seven per cent excise tax on automobiles, and the enactment of a 10 per cent investment credit this year, that would be reduced to five per cent a year later. These are controversial proposals, but they would speed industrial growth and therefore provide new employment.

The Upper Quarter

Twice as many American families will enjoy an annual income of $15,000 or more by 1980, a study for the New York Stock Exchange reports. At least 25 per cent of all American families will be in that bracket, up from 12 per cent today, measured in dollars of constant purchasing power.

Allowing for a yearly inflation of a little over three per cent, the study predicts the gross national product will cross two trillion by 1980. That means that the second trillion will be achieved in one decade, as compared to the 300 years the country took to achieve the first trillion.

And, of course, at such a pace, both personal income and standard of living will mount for many more American families. For instance, the disposable income would increase from 1970's $688 billion to 1980's $1.54 trillion. Disposable income is the money available for spending after fixed expenses.

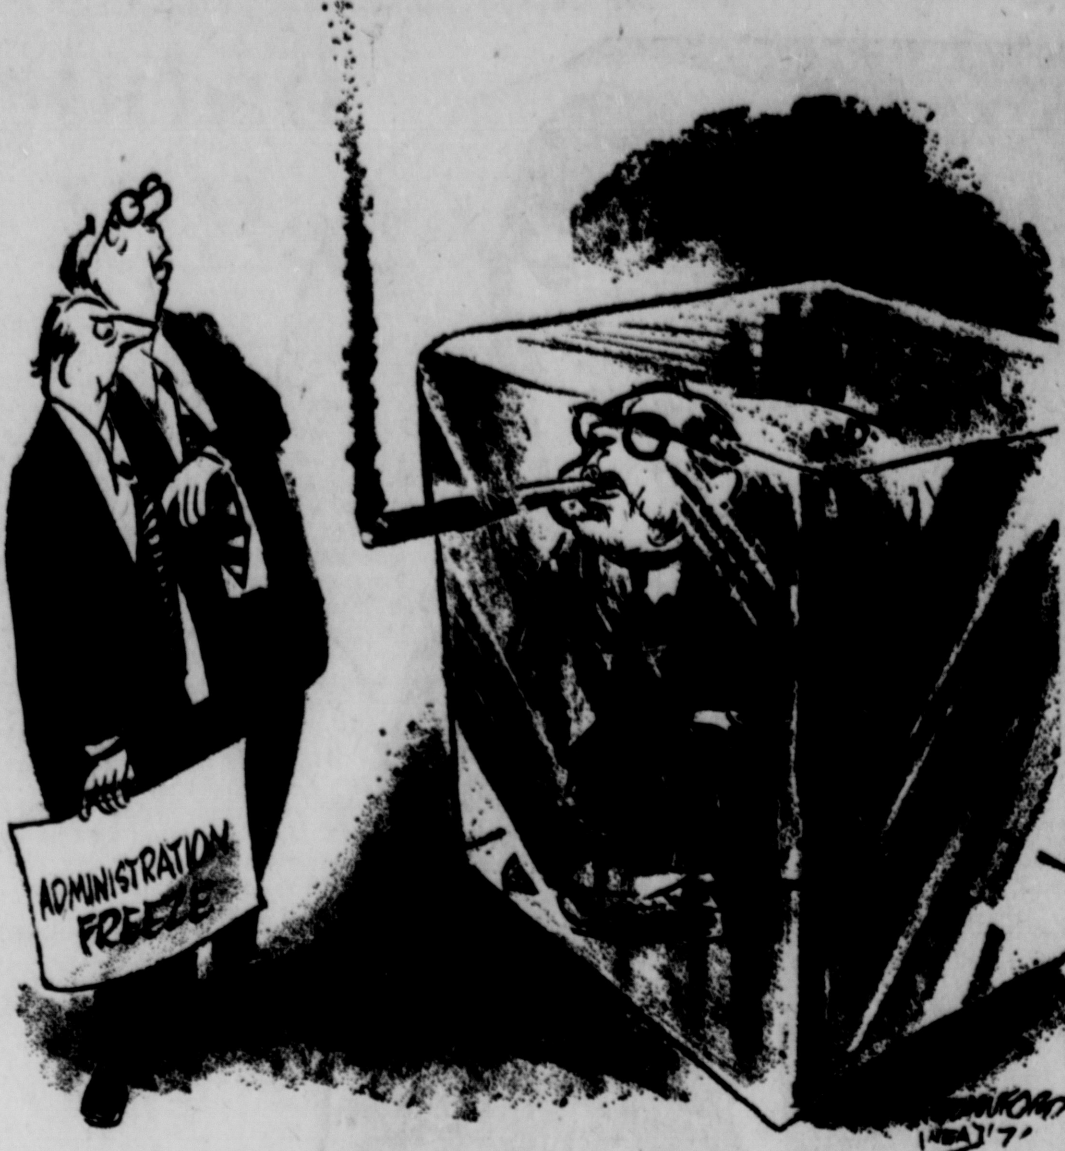

The Exchange's interest is in the effect of this prosperity on the stock market. The study predicted that more American families will invest in stocks as their incomes rise. The number of stockholders would grow from today's 31 million to 50 million by 1980. Given the other predictions about increased earnings and disposable incomes, this rise in shareholders is to be expected. More will want to share in what makes America grow.

David Lawrence Says No Extension of Wage-Price Freeze Brings Sigh of Relief

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's announcement that the wage-price freeze will not be extended beyond the 90-day period brought a sigh of relief across the country. For nobody enjoys a bureaucratic control such as is involved in regulating wages and prices. The President seeks to avoid processes of compulsion and uses the word "cooperation" as he speaks of the "system of wage and price stabilization" which is to follow the freeze. He is inviting representatives of Congress, business, labor and agriculture to meet with him to help plan the next phase of his program. He has directed members of the cost of living council to continue talks with all interested groups. The President declared in his address to Congress:

"Let's remember also that nothing would be more detrimental to the new prosperity in the long run than to put this nation's great, strong, free-enterprise system in a permanent straitjacket of government controls. Regulation and government coercion must never become a way of life in the United States of America. And that means that price and wage stabilization, in whatever form it takes, must be only a way station on the road to free markets and free collective bargaining in a new prosperity without war."

Mr. Nixon places an emphasis on "new jobs," with the goal that the economy within ten years will provide 100 million jobs.

The President points out that many billions of dollars will be required in the next several years to accomplish the nation's great objectives.

A healthy economy will be essential.

In order to "restore the health of our government institutions," the President urges Congress to act on the sweeping reorganization of the Executive Branch of the government he has proposed and also to pass the recommended revenue-sharing programs "to help revitalize our state and local governments and to ease the crushing rise in the burden of property taxes in this country."

The President again calls on Congress to act on welfare reform and "bring under control a system that has become a suffocating burden on state and local taxpayers."

Specifically, for immediate action, the President wants three tax proposals adopted because he believes they will create 500,000 new jobs in the coming year.

First, he asks Congress to remove the 7 per cent excise tax on automobiles, so that more than 8 million people who will buy American-built cars in the next year will save an average of 200 dollars each. He points out that the repeal of what he calls "A sales tax paid by the consumer" will stimulate buying and that about 25,000 additional jobs will result from every 100,000 extra automobiles sold.

Also, the President urges Congress to adopt "a job-development credit" to encourage investment in machinery and equipment to generate new jobs. This, he believes, will be an incentive to business to hire more workers and will enable wage earners to work more productively.

Greater consumer purchasing power is expected to develop, the President adds, if Congress acts to permit the planned 50-dollar increase in the personal income tax exemption scheduled for 1973 to become effective next January 1 — a year ahead of schedule.

All these proposals taken together would lower the taxes now paid by individuals by 3.2 billion dollars and would provide 2.7 billion dollars "in incentives to companies to invest in job-producing equipment."

The President realizes that some spending cuts by the government will be necessary. He has ordered the postponement of scheduled pay raises for federal employees, a 5 per cent reduction in government employment, and a 10 per cent decrease in foreign economic aid. He has recommended a postponement of one year in the effective date for his welfare reform proposals and of three months on revenue sharing.

The President is well aware that Congress will be tempted to boost government spending and reduce taxes in addition to recommendations he has made. But he emphasizes that any increases not accompanied by higher taxes and extra tax cuts which are not accompanied by reductions in outlays are certain to produce again "a spiral of higher prices."

On the whole, the President's explanation of his program was received favorably by Congress, although, when the various measures come before both houses, there will be many changes suggested. Action will have to be taken before November 13, when the 90-day freeze is over, in order that the business world will not be left in a mood of uncertainty and worry.

Population Crisis Will Receive Scanty Attention

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — This capital is going to be a very, very busy place this fall and winter. It will all be important — Congress acting on the President's economic package, his decision on the next phase, a new Vietnam pullout announcement, welfare reform, revenue-sharing. But it will be quite secondary. One might even say shallow.

These things of the moment will get the hot glare. Our truly monumental dilemma, threatening the whole fabric of civilization, will be lucky to capture a little Sunday news space.

That dilemma is a complex mosaic composed of vaulting population, still rising industrialization, social disorganization, smothering pollution, world food shortages, diminishing natural resources.

What is going to happen on this globe in the next 30, 40, or 50 years is being decided right now in high government sanctuaries, industrial board rooms, city councils. Yet the focus seems to be on the immediate. Only in obscure seminars and conferences is the longer future being examined. And very little word seeps out from these.

Aren't we showing healthy alertness to our difficulties when we shout about ecology, slap pollution curbs on industry, clamor for conservation and "zero" population growth?

To a point, yes, we are. But we nevertheless, only dimly perceive the gravity of our peril. Not many really want to look. It is easier to take comfort from the wonder of the computer. It is even argued that our fretting over pollution is a luxury we may now happily enjoy because we have reached economic levels that let us thrust survival worries aside.

The truth just is not that cheerful. The darker reality is seldom glimpsed. But under spur of an organization called the Club of Rome, a group of 50 scientists, economists, educators and businessmen met last year in Switzerland and commissioned Jay Forrester, professor of management at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to apply his "systems dynamics" theories to the world problem. His team's grim preliminary conclusions have been looked at by universities, governments, and U.N. agencies — and judged to be valid.

It used to take about 1,500 years for the world population to double. But with the global total now at 3.5 billion, trends indicate it is going to double to 7 billion in 32 years, and then again to 14 billion in another three decades. Pushing aside all the happy talk about how we'll support these billions with food from the sea, the "green revolution," and greatly enlarged industrial output, the Forrester team flatly says it can't be done.

Writing in the magazine, The Futurist, Dennis Meadows, key associate of Professor Forrester says: "There is no possibility of sufficient technological and cultural progress occurring in the next 100 years to sustain as many as 14 billion people on our globe."

Indeed, add Meadows, long before we reach the next population doubling-point, we will have learned that "more people implies a lower standard of living."

Forrester himself suggests that, though there is a widespread feeling of malaise in this country and abroad today, we may actually be living in a golden age — with a quality of life higher than we have ever known and higher than we are likely to enjoy in the future.

Meadows underscores the dark prospect with assertions that the hundreds of millions in the developing countries will never reach the economic standards of the developed lands, and that the likelier thing is the decline of western nations' standards toward the lower levels of the others.

Jack Anderson Says FBI's Lie Detectors May Shock The Times, but Not Anderson

WASHINGTON — The FBI's use of lie detectors to locate news leaks may be upsetting to the New York Times. But for us, it's strictly routine.

Long ago, we became resigned to this sort of intimidation. We've counted as many as 18 FBI agents at one time searching for our sources. They've used not only lie detectors but third-degree methods and grand jury subpoenas.

The latest investigation was touched off, the press reported, by a New York Times account on July 22 of the secret U.S. position at the strategic arms limitation talks.

Actually, Attorney General John Mitchell began investigating news leaks last spring. He ordered the FBI, specifically, to find out who was slipping us Pentagon secrets often intended for the "eyes only" of the top brass.

Military gunshoes grilled suspects behind the doors of room 3E993 at the Pentagon. FBI agents followed up, flashing their credentials and asking terse questions. Lie detectors were used; some suspects were tailed; their neighbors were questioned.

At least one suspect, a mild, bespectacled Pentagon aide named Gene Smith, was badgered, threatened, cursed and, finally, subpoenaed to appear before a federal grand jury in Norfolk, Va.

But unhappily, the vaunted FBI had fingered the wrong man. Smith denied under oath that he had given us so much as the time of day.

U.S. Attorney Brian Gettings admitted to us afterward that a "federal agency" had suggested he go after Smith. "We probably do have the wrong man," the chastened prosecutor acknowledged.

With the publication of the Pentagon papers, Mitchell broadened his investigation of news leaks. Then in July, the gunshoes moved into the State Department after the appearance of three more sensitive stories:

1. The New York Times account by William Beecher giving details of the U.S. bargaining position on arms limitation;
2. Another New York Times report by Tad Szulc about arms shipments to Pakistan; and
3. A column by us quoting from a State Department message that had been hand-carried in a sealed envelope to U.S. AID Administrator John Hannah.

Were these news leaks "prejudicial to the national interest," as State Department spokesman Robert McCloskey claimed? Or do government officials use the security stamp to cover up their mistakes and to manage the news for political purpose?

Let's take the message that was delivered to Hannah in a sealed envelope. This was a hush-hush report from our Ambassador to Kenya, Robinson McVaine, on the highjinks of the AID administrator in Kenya. It was classified, we believe, solely to spare the involved officials from embarrassment.

But admittedly, the Pentagon investigation was triggered by our publication of sensitive information. We reported, for example, that Gen. Creighton Abrams, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, had been asked to draw up top-secret contingency plans last October for a three-day, seven-day or ten-day aerial assault upon North Vietnam.

We revealed no military details, except that the contingency plans included the bombing and mining of Haiphong harbor.

Here was evidence that President Nixon was preparing plans to expand the war at the same time that he was promising to curtail it. We thought it was in the public interest to print the story.

Official Discrepancy We also revealed that MACV teams, composed of U.S. special forces and South Vietnamese rangers, continued to operate inside Cambodia and Laos at the same time our spokesmen were claiming no American troops were in those countries. We cited secret messages, which referred to the Cambodian raids by the code name "Salem House" and to the Laos raids as "Prairie Fire."

Again, we felt the public was entitled to know about this little discrepancy.

Perhaps the story that caused the most embarrassment (and produced the most intensive investigation) was our disclosure that the U.S. had been intercepting South Vietnamese President Thieu's private communications. These were picked up and decoded by the National Security Agency, then passed on to the White House and other agencies. The intercepted messages were identified by the code name "Gout."

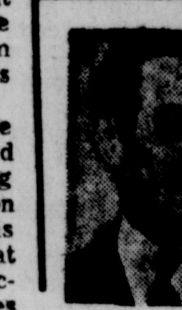

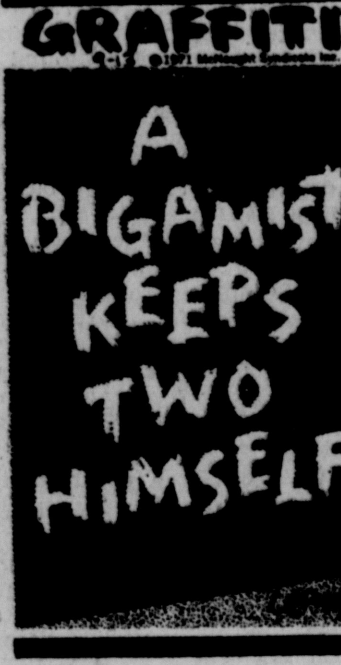

This unpleasant revelation, no doubt, was awkward for the U.S. But we strongly believe that, in a democracy, the people have the right to know what their officials are doing. Since no military security was involved, we published the story.

For the same reason, we reported that Adm. Thomas Moorer, the Joint Chiefs' chairman, received a "Flash" message after the daring Son Tay raid informing him that the North Vietnamese prison compound hadn't been occupied for three months.

The real reason for the news-leak investigations, in our opinion, is to scare government employees into silence so they won't give out information that their bosses don't want the public to know.

No less than State Secretary Bill Rogers, a former Attorney General, acknowledged that the lie detector "is not a very good instrument, in my opinion, for showing guilt." It is a good instrument, however, for intimidating State Department officials.

For the men who govern us, in order to remain in power, would like to control what we are told about their administration.

Henry J. Taylor Says Will We Move Toward Cuba?

Chief of Naval Operations Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr. is sweating out another unrevealed problem with the Soviet swimming bear. It involves Cuba, and the why of it is equally undisclosed.

Ever since the embarrassment of the Bay of Pigs the Kennedy-Johnson policy has been: "Hear no Cuba, see no Cuba, speak no Cuba." And now, with President Nixon's move toward Red China, is a move toward Castro the next shift behind the scenes?

Cuba stands inside our own Caribbean defense perimeter, 90 miles from Florida's shores — a Soviet bastion rimmed with fire. The Soviet construction of a naval base at Cienfuegos, on the south coast, continues apace. So does the Soviet submarine "fishing" base construction on the Isle of Pines, Seguea Bay. So does the Soviet expansion of the Chullian (Havana Province) shipyard. And so does the Soviet military adaption of the great Caverna de Santo, Caverna del Suisenor, Escaleras de Jaruco and Caguanes caves.

A Soviet-directed air cover commanded at Remedios flies from San Antonio de Los Baños and the Soviet air base at San Julian, 90 miles southeast of Havana, the island's largest air force station.

Most of these Russian-built, far-flying search planes are capable of instant conversion into bombers merely by attaching the bomb rack. Each is capable of launching a larger and more devastating atomic missile than is launched by a U.S. Polaris submarine.

Worldwide, the Soviet employs 40 electronically equipped spy ships compared to our two. Of those 40 floating spies, two are off Cienfuegos and two regularly patrol the western Caribbean. They refuel and take on provisions at Cienfuegos and the Mexican port of Ensenada.

Yet in a move to please Castro and the U.S.S.R. alike, our own air photographic reconnaissance of Cuba has been, step by step, reduced to occasional token flights. Today the Soviet swimming bear includes 83 nuclear-powered and 318 diesel-powered submarines — an underwater fleet three times the size of ours. Each Soviet Yankee-class submarine carries 16 nuclear missiles (1,500-2,000 mile range) and has greater destructive power than from all the conventional bombs we dropped in World War II. Moreover, their Yankees presently are getting 3,000-mile missiles.

We are guarding against this threat in amazing ways. Every sub makes a slightly different sound — a "signature" — when moving under water. Our navy painstakingly discovers and records these "signatures," as the Russians well know.

For example, let a Soviet submarine leave Murmansk for Cuba. It cruises submerged through Norway's icy waters. But a U.S. submarine, is on station, laying silently — listening — in the depths. It monitors the Red sub's passage and gets its "signature." Our nuclear submarine can stay down for two months without surfacing — by charts of the ocean bottom, by inertial guidance, but what is called Loran C, by fathometer, and by satellite signals — all calculations pouring into computers.

A special V.I.F. wave length is the method of speaking between submerged submarines for astounding distances. When the Soviet sub has passed out of sound range our sub, in turn, notifies the next submerged sub laying silently on station to monitor it toward its destination.

In addition, our Navy uses a nearly incredible system of underwater microphones located on the ocean floor. The vast network is code-named SOSUS and a Red sub's sound detected on any two microphones is triangulated to uncover the sub's position. In this way Soviet subs can be located before their missile range threatens our coasts.

But now for the unrevealed situation. By all that's safe and holy, what is cooking about Cuba? Our Navy now has no SOSUS ocean-bottom microphones listening on the Caribbean's floor on the south coast of Cuba. It has none in the Gulf of Mexico along the U.S. coast. When a Soviet submarine enters the Caribbean on Cuba's underside we lose it then and there. It is in an area where we are now "deaf." Actually, we're miraculously able to track its threat off Iceland but not off Cuba. Why?

Authorizing a visit by a U.S. ping-pong team began the moves toward Red China. Some ask whether the authorization for a U.S. volley ball team to visit Cuba is similarly significant. But our actions behind the scenes speak a great deal louder than that, and these are the unrevealed actions Washington is taking.

Fatality, Drowning Mar the Weekend

By JON POWERS

HIGHLAND
Twelve persons were killed in accidental mishaps in New York State over the weekend, including a 17-year-old Highland youth whose car crashed into a utility pole off Route 9W Sunday, and a 16-year-old Cairo youth, whose lifeless body was discovered Sunday morning in a Greene County resort hotel swimming pool.

Daniel Hannon, 17, of 4

Washington Avenue, Highland, was killed instantly when the car he was driving on Route 9W in the Town of Lloyd smashed into a utility pole.

State Police said the accident occurred around 4 a.m. Sunday, about one-half mile south of Route 299. Hannon was alone in the car at the time of the crash.

The mishap was the 38th traffic fatality in Ulster County in 1971 and the sixth to occur on Route 9W South. Highland State Police investigated the fatality.

State Police from Leeds in Greene County reported the accidental drowning death of 16-year-old John Cook, who they said apparently dove into the shallow end of a swimming pool located on the Mountain Spring Hotel property in East Durham at about 1:40 a.m. Sunday.

Cook, said police, apparently struck his head on the bottom of the pool, knocking him unconscious.

The youth's body was discovered at 8:30 a.m. by Marie Mullens, owner of the hotel. She contacted police, who rushed to the resort.

Cook was pronounced dead at the scene and a verdict of accidental death due to drowning was given by Greene County

Coroner Henry Millsbaugh.

An autopsy was performed by Dr. Joseph Bellamy, a Greene County pathologist. Trooper J. J. Salmon investigated.

Police said the Cairo youth was alone when the mishap occurred.

Throughout the state over the weekend, two other persons died as the result of accidental drownings and nine were killed in highway mishaps.

Methadone Clinic Opens First Time

KINGSTON
Ulster County's Methadone Treatment Clinic opened for the first time today at the former Nurse's Residence on the Kingston Hospital property.

During its first week of operation interviews will be conducted each day from 5 to 8 p.m. Those already on Methadone will continue to receive it at Poughkeepsie until the interviewing is completed and treatment is begun here.

Entrance to the clinic may be gained through the Blood Bank door at the rear of the Nurse's Residence.

Established by the Ulster County Drug Commission, the clinic is expected to help about 15 known heroin addicts in the Kingston area.

Final authorization for the facility was cleared with the Ulster County Legislature. The Drug Commission has been granted use of the facilities of Kingston Hospital without charge for the remainder of the year. It is expected that the hospital will negotiate a lease with the county so the clinic may continue at the site after Dec. 31.

Methadone, a non-euphoric drug substitute for heroin, will be dispensed to addicts on a daily basis at the treatment center. Group therapy sessions also will be conducted there. The local program will be administered temporarily by the Dutchess County Drug Commission. Once Ulster County is first at the clinic.

Compliance Agreed On City Zoning

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON
The city took two zoning violators to court on Friday and came out with agreements to comply. George E. Radcliffe, Kingston building inspector, told The Freeman today.

One case involved a gasoline service station on Broadway the other, a grocery store on St. James Street.

The Texaco station on Broadway between Van Deusen and Van Buren Street was cited for storing wrecked cars on the premises, dismantling cars and doing body work out of doors.

The other case involved the St. James Grocery Store where the owner was charged with operating a restaurant in a non-conforming zone. That case went to Supreme Court Justice John L. Larkin after the Kingston Zoning Board of appeals had refused to grant a variance for the operation of a restaurant.

The owner must now revert to his former business of a grocery store-delicatessen.

Failure to comply in each case could result in a maximum fine of $100 per day and 30 days in jail for every day that the owners are not in compliance.

Two Drug Arrests at Hasbrouck Park

KINGSTON
Two city youths were arrested by police Sunday morning at Hasbrouck Park and charged with possession of dangerous drugs, loitering and a violation of the city's park ordinance.

Later Sunday, State Police in Orange County nabbed two Middletown men on Route 17 after a routine check of their auto revealed 160 bags of heroin. Arrested in Kingston at about 6:30 a.m. Sunday were Raymond Kilmer, 19, of 176 West Pierpont Street and Raymond Evans, 20, of 710 Broadway. They were discovered in Hasbrouck Park by police with a quantity of marijuana in their possession.

The two youths were released in the custody of their parents and are due to appear in City Court today to answer charges of first degree loitering, sixth degree possession of dangerous drugs and violating the city park ordinance.

Arrested on Route 17 near Monroe in Orange County late Sunday night were 25-year-old Daniel Ortiz and 30-year-old Vincent Scarzafava, after police discovered 160 bags of heroin and four tabs of cocaine in their auto. The heroin was valued at $800.

The two were charged with fourth degree possession of a dangerous drug, a felony, and ordered held in lieu of $6,000 bail pending a later court hearing. Both men entered a mandatory not guilty plea.

Frederick Kellerhouse, 18, of Wawarsing was arrested by State Police in Ellenville Sunday morning and charged with sixth degree possession of narcotics (marijuana) and second degree criminal trespass. He was arraigned before Ellenville Justice Harold Sashin and released on six months probation.

Lindsay Gives First Demo Endorsement

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayor John V. Lindsay gave his first Democratic endorsement Sunday since switching to that party a month ago.

Lindsay, who formerly was a republican, supported Mildred L. Midonick for surrogate judge in Manhattan's Democratic primary on Tuesday. Lindsay also said the other candidate, Frederick Backer, was "highly qualified" but the mayor supported Midonick because he was picked to run by an independent panel.

Lindsay is not eligible to vote in the primary because he did not change his party registration in time.

along with bottles and glass jars. Aluminum cans are not to be collected, according to BPW Superintendent Charles J. Cole.

Local response to the drive held in the spring, was satisfactory, Cole said, but insufficient to justify weekly recycling drives. Results of this week's drive will be carefully analyzed with the hope that public support pick up.

The spring drive never really got into gear for two main reasons, Cole explained: Participation was light and many of those persons who did participate failed to properly bundle their packages. Some 75 per cent of the recyclable material wound up in the dump, anyway, Cole said.

The situation at the city dump at Kingston Point landfill is rapidly becoming critical, Cole said. Recycling, now just an experiment, could become crucial in the very near future.

This week's recycling drive will parallel regular trash pickup within the city. All recyclable materials should be placed in separate bundles wherever normal trash collections take place. The drive will continue through Friday.

Rosendale and Police—An Impasse

ROSENDALE

The Village of Rosendales Police Department, after a two-hour meeting with Mayor Carl Grassi Sunday afternoon, demanded a new police car for their immediate use and then notified Grassi that they would not go on patrol or police calls until they got it.

Grassi said he feels they have a legitimate gripe in that under the present arrangement whereby they use their own private cars, their insurance would be canceled immediately if they should have an accident.

The village cannot carry insurance on private vehicles. However, Grassi feels the men are being "unreasonable" in that they have not allowed him sufficient time to justify the cost of a new car by comparing the price of it with the price of insurance for the five private vehicles now being used by the Police Department.

Grassi, who expects to have that information within the week, said he asked the police to go on any emergency calls which might arise but he was refused.

During the impasse, the state Police and Sheriff's Department have agreed to cover the area, Grassi said.

Levitt Bids State Rescind 'Blanket Policy' on Costs

NEW YORK (AP) — State Controller Arthur Levitt has recommended that the State Department of Education rescind its "blanket policy" of reimbursing costs incurred prior to formal approval of an urban education project.

Levitt made the recommendation in an audit report that criticized the "lack of sufficient staff training and orientation" by the city's old board of education for an experimental elementary educational program to have begun in September 1968.

The project was authorized as part of a $44.5 million state more than 250 special urban education programs in the city. Levitt blamed inconsistent directives and the board's uncertainty for a five-month delay in implementing the program.

The audit report found that the city billed the state for $338,000 in costs before the project was normally approved in January 1969.

The city's school board spent only $3.1 million of an allocated $7.5 million during the first year, said Levitt, adding that the controller's office had disallowed $442,646 in charges because of overpayment, payments to nonparticipants or sums not properly documented.

Vacancies Are Filled In Marbletown

MARBLETOWN

The Democrat's of Marbletown met Thursday, Sept. 9 to discuss plans for the upcoming election.

The committee on vacancies met and filled the following offices: Superintendent of highways, Vincent Mesten; town clerk, Virginia Miller and town justice, Herman Klarsfeld.

The people who had been nominated at the caucus for these positions have since declined.

Plans are being made for a picnic which will be held Sunday, Sept. 26, at Marbletown Town Park. It will enable all citizens of Marbletown to get better acquainted with the candidates. Free refreshments will be served.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, Sept. 16 at 8 p.m. in the Marbletown Town Hall. All interested citizens are invited.

MD Chapter Meets Tonight

NEW CITY

The Mid-Hudson Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society will hold its annual meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at Ye Olde Inn, 37 Congers Road, New City, at which time all new officers will be installed.

This chapter serves Ulster, Sullivan, Rockland, Dutchess, Putnam and Orange Counties. It has supplied wheelchairs and other needed appliances to multiple sclerosis victims, counseling them and their families, and has distributed about 70,000 pieces of literature in a campaign to educate the public about problems arising from the disease.

Multiple sclerosis affects the central nervous system, usually in young adults between the ages of 20 and 40, distorting and often blocking the ability to see, walk, move, and balance. Cause, cure, and prevention remain unknown.

Ferroxcube

Reports Layoff

SAUGERTIES

Ferroxcube, one of Ulster County's largest employers, has reportedly laid off 16 of its personnel during the past week, 12 of whom were hourly employees.

A spokesman for the company said the layoffs are attributable to a "lack of work."

During the past year Ferroxcube reportedly laid off 80 other employees leaving at that time about a 400-man work force. At one time, the Saugerties industry employed close to 1,000 persons.

Adjacent to the New York State Thruway, the firm started in 1950 with less than 20 employees and grew to be one of the major area industries.

The name stems from the manufacturing line. Ferroxcube represent the ferrous oxide (iron oxide) which is used in conjunction with other materials. The cube symbolically defines the elementary cell in the crystal structure of the ferrite product.

Assault Charge Against City Man

KINGSTON

Edna Alexander, 30, of 127 Murray Street, is in fair condition at Kingston Hospital, suffering from facial and body injuries, after she was allegedly beaten early Saturday by Richard Mayr, 34 of the same address.

Mayr was arrested by police shortly after the alleged incident and charged with third degree assault on a complaint signed by Miss Alexander. He is scheduled to appear in city court for preliminary hearing today.

The incident, said police, reportedly evolved from a domestic argument that took place in Miss Alexander's apartment.

State Police Grab Gunman

TOWN OF PLATTEKILL

Louis Montelione, 56, of Vineyard Avenue, Highland, who, according to State Police, allegedly entered a bar in the Town of Plattekill Sunday afternoon carrying a fully loaded shotgun, and threatened to kill all the patrons, was arrested a short time later and charged with first degree reckless endangerment.

The incident occurred in Brown's Bar and Grill at 4 p.m. Sunday. Montelione was arrested a short time later by Highland troopers in the Town of Lloyd.

Montelione was arraigned before Town of Plattekill Justice Wayne G. Smith and committed to the Ulster County Jail without bail pending a hearing Tuesday night.

ALMANAC EDITOR DIES

Luman H. Long, editor of the World Almanac and Book of Facts, died Sunday at Overlook Hospital in Summit, N. J., where he had undergone thoracic surgery Friday. Long became an associate editor of the almanac in 1956, and editor in 1965. He was 64. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices opened little change today from Friday's close, reflecting continuing investor uncertainty over the long term outlook.

Advances and declines were neck to neck on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said investors were disturbed over what policies and administration might adopt when the 90-day price-wage freeze ends.

Opening Big Board prices included Shell Oil, up 1/4 to 46 1/4; Pan American, off 1/4 to 11 1/4; General Electric, off 1/4 to 64 1/4; Republic Corp., up 1/4 to 5 1/4; and National Cash Register, off 1/4 to 43 1/4.

Stock market prices Friday dipped on moderate volume, with the Dow average falling 4.89 points to 911.00. Big Board turnover totalled 11.39 million shares.

At Quentin Guard Jobs Still Sought

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI) — A bloody escape attempt at San Quentin Prison last month apparently has not diminished enthusiasm for guard jobs at the prison if the turnout for the most recent written tests is any criteria.

Lt. C.H. Wilson said 28 men took the examination Saturday — a larger than average number — and 25 of them passed. They will now be given oral tests to decide if they'll join the San Quentin staff.

Guards at the prison had predicted it would be hard to find new officers because of the violence which has plagued San Quentin and other correction institutions in the state.

Three guards and three inmates, including black revolutionary George Jackson, were killed Aug. 21 during an escape attempt.

Wilson said he was both surprised and delighted with the number of men — aged 22 through 35 — who took and passed the test. He said other exams will be held for vacancies at other California prisons.

Paltz Police Search for Knife Wielder

NEW PALTZ — Paltz Village Police today are searching for an unidentified man who allegedly stabbed another man in the stomach Saturday night in front of the Homestead Bar on Main Street.

The victim, Early D. Ewing, 32, of Box 101, Milton, was stabbed once in the stomach and slashed over the left eye following an altercation at about 9:45 p.m. Saturday, according to Police Chief James Walrath.

Ewing was treated at the scene by Dr. Robert Taylor and then rushed to Kingston Hospital where he received emergency treatment to close the wound over his eye, and his stomach. He was later released.

Chief Walrath said today that the stabbing is under investigation and that "suspects are known."

Patrolmen Charles Davis and William Taggard and Special Patrolmen David Heinze and Fred Ludeke investigated.

Infant Girl Called Poor

KINGSTON — Mary Jane Wood, the 21-month-old infant child struck by a car Friday afternoon in Port Ewen, was removed from the critical list at Benedictine Hospital Sunday. Hospital authorities listed her condition today as poor.

James Wood, 18, the infant's brother, was reported in fair condition. He sustained a fractured leg in the mishap.

Geana Hornbeck, 33 months, was also listed in fair condition. The three were injured when a car careened across the sidewalk along Broadway in Port Ewen, striking Wood, who was wheeling his baby sister in a baby carriage. The car then smashed into the porch of a home at 168 Broadway, where Geana Hornbeck was sitting in a playpen.

City firemen responded to a car fire between Shufelt Street and Lynwood Place this morning at 8:04 a. m. They found a 1957 automobile owned by Vincent McDonough burning from the hood compartment. McDonough had partially extinguished the fire with a garden hose.

Damage was reported in the hood compartment and to the heater in the car.

FORSHEY (L) ACCEPTS CHECK FROM MINARD

Study Trip For Lab Head

CLINTONDALE—Dr. C. G. Forshey, pomologist and superintendent of the Hudson Valley Laboratory, has embarked on a study trip to the State of Washington where he will view innovative frost abatement practices utilized by Northwest region fruit growers. Forshey's trip was made possible after $500 was collected from Hudson Valley fruit growers by John Minard of Clintondale, to help defray expenses.

Maintenance of environmental quality is the basis for Forshey's trip. Some concern has been expressed by Hudson Valley residents in past years over the practice of creating a dense smudge cloud to prevent apple crops from being destroyed or damaged by sudden frosts.

Because of environmental concern, the local fruit growers industry formed a committee to develop a system that protects crops against frost, while still being compatible to the environment.

A number of ecologically sound frost abatement practices are utilized by fruit growers in Washington, the nation's leading apple producing state. Forshey will travel to that region to study air pollution regulations affecting orchard heating for frost control, collect information on the suitability of various types of orchard heaters and collect information on alternative methods of frost control, such as sprinkler irrigation, wind machines, artificial fog and chemicals.

After he returns from the trip, Forshey will report his findings to the committee. Cooperative Extension Agents, the Ulster County Health Department and fruit growers.

School Tax Rates Low in Ellenville

ELLENVILLE—A comparison of school tax rates shows residents of the Ellenville Central School District are doing very well.

In the Town of Wawarsing, four school districts are represented. The tax rate for the Ellenville district is $140.71 per $100 assessed valuation, lower than Rondout Valley's $183.57 per $1000 and Fallsburg's $177.9341 per $1000. Tri-Valley is the only district lower than Ellenville, with a rate of $90.92 per $1000.

In the Town of Rochester, Ellenville has a rate of $95.94 per $1000. This is lower than Rondout Valley's $125.16 per $1000. Tri-Valley is lower than Ellenville, with a rate of only $54.076 per $1000.

The comparison of school township is a true comparison of the rates. School districts have no hand in the assessment or the equalization rates. The assessing is done by town assessors; the equalization rate is set by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment.

Dutchess Man Is Appointed To Board

RHINEBECK—Benson R. Frost, Jr. has been elected an honorary member of the Northern Dutchess Hospital Board of Directors in recognition of "his years of long and faithful service to the hospital," according to Carroll F. Lynch, president.

Replacing Frost, whose resignation was accepted earlier this year with regret, as first vice president is Donald Dapson. Mark Morse will assume the duties or second vice president.

The Board has also elected Richard Staats, Clinton Corners, to membership. Staats is the president of the Staats Dairy Transport, Inc.; president of Bulls Head Motors, Inc.; co-partner in the Village Carousel; a director of the Stissing National Bank, Pine Plains; and a charter member of the Stanford Lions Club.

Drug Program Set Tuesday

ACCORD
The topic for this week's information program of the Rochester Narcotic Guidance Council will be "The Psychology of the Drug Dependent Personality and the Methods of Counseling Them."

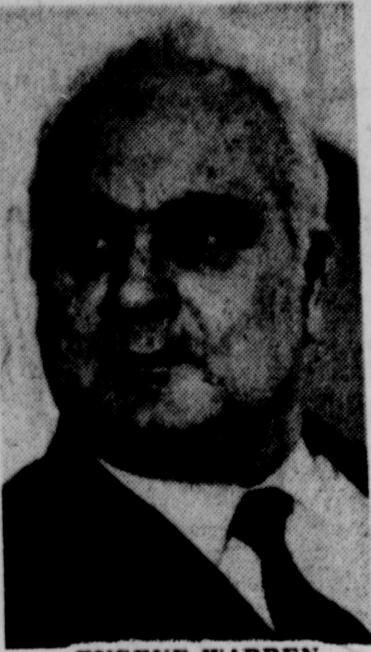

The program will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Accord Dutch Reformed Church, Rte. 209, south of Accord. The speaker will be Eugene Warren, associate narcotic education representative of the Narcotic Addiction Control Commission.

Warren is also a director of a group therapy for Hope, Inc. Prior to joining the commission, he was associated with the New York State Division of Parole, and had been a supervisor of addict parolees in Manhattan as part of the New York State Parole Narcotic Treatment Bureau.

A native of Greenwich, he has trained with the staff of Dr. Efrén Ramirez, the first commissioner of New York City's Addiction Services Agency, and with Daytop Village. He was also associated with the Encounter program in New York City.

Vincent Dunn, head of the narcotic council, said, "We urge all parents to attend Tuesday night's session. It will help to enable them to understand and deal with the drug problem."

Dunn said anyone at all interested in the drug problem was welcome at the session.

Esopus Chief Lists Rules

TOWN OF ESOPUS
With the opening of schools in the area, Joseph J. Feraca, chief of the Town of Esopus police has issued a list of safety rules that he suggests should be complied with by parents and children.

Feraca suggests that parents should walk with their child to the school bus, and he advises children to stay in line while waiting for the school bus and always stay in seats while the bus is moving.

He cautions children not to talk with strangers while walking on the highway and advises them never to accept a ride in vehicles driven by persons unknown to the child. "If any stranger offers a child a ride in a car the child should note the registration number of the vehicle and give it to the police immediately," Feraca said.

"A child should always look both ways when leaving a school bus and before crossing a highway," the chief said.

Meanwhile, motorists are reminded that the law requires a driver of a vehicle to stop when approaching from the front or rear a school bus that is stopped to discharge or pick up school children. A motorist must remain stopped until the flashing lights are turned off on the bus.

Police throughout the area are prepared to issue summonses to any driver who violates section 1174 of the Vehicle and Traffic Law relating to school buses.

Craft Lessons Will Continue

NEW PALTZ
Certain of the crafts that have been so popular on Huguenot Street, sponsored by the Huguenot Historical Society, New Paltz will be continued during the month of Sept. and part of Oct.

Mrs. DeWitt will continue the quilting program, beginning Sept. 14 for five weeks.

Mrs. Myron Coons and Mr. Irwin Cooper will continue to teach canning and rushing on Fridays during the month of September.

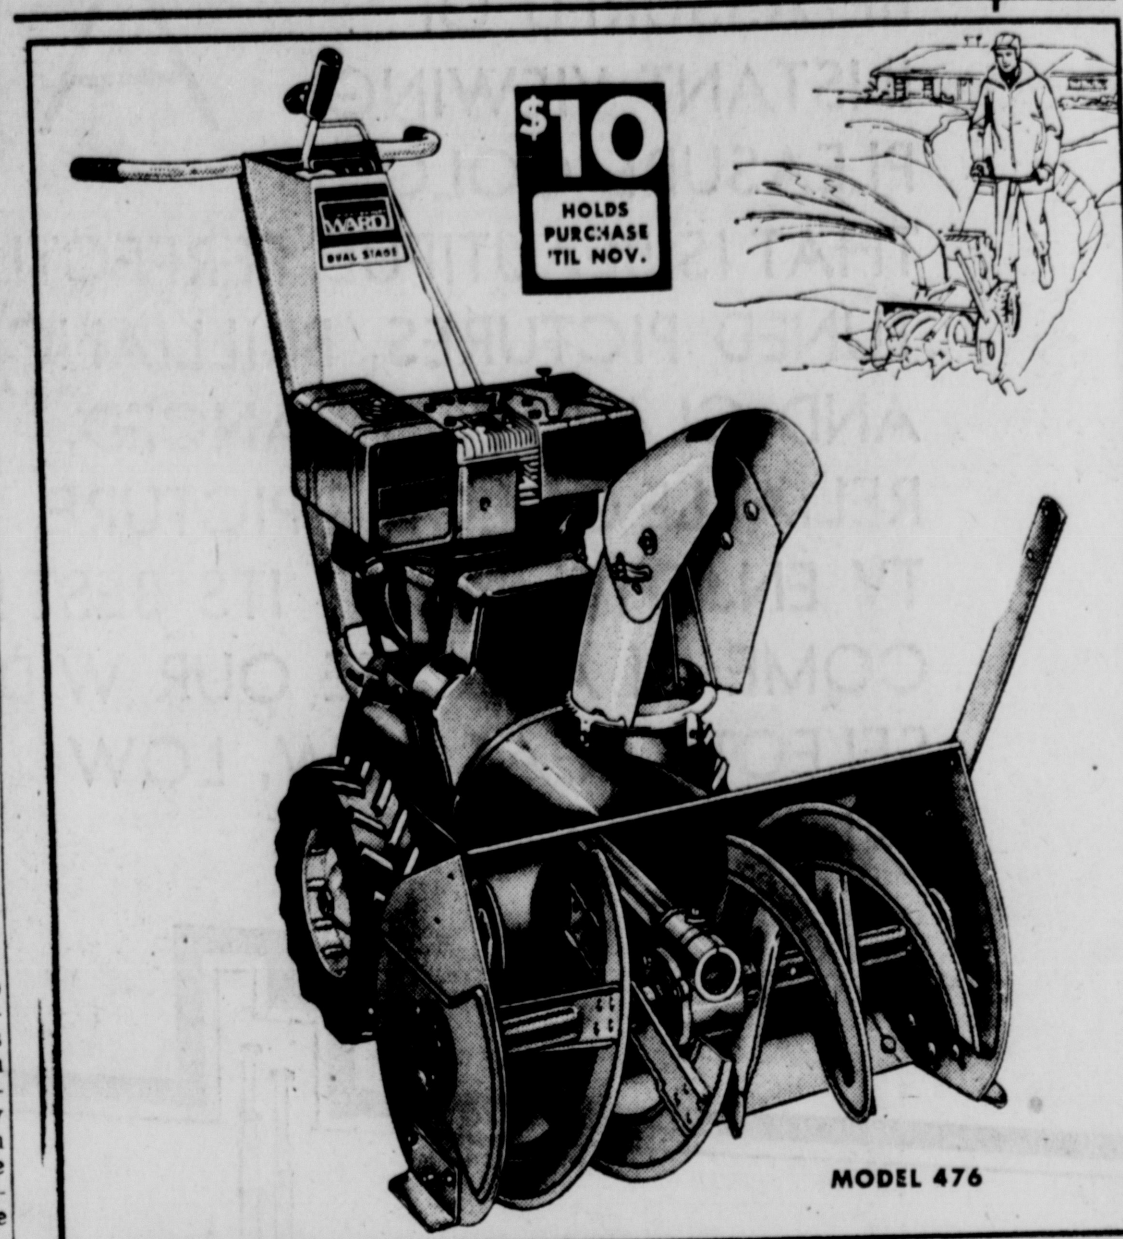

There will be a display of items woven and quilted in the New Paltz Savings Bank during the month of October.

The crafts have proven to be so very popular, that it is hoped a program can be continued next year. All those interested in the program for next year please write Kenneth E. Hasbrouck, Huguenot Historical Society, P.O. Box 339, New Paltz, New York.

NEW PARTNERSHIP—James Amendola (L) and Celestino Caruso (R) have entered into a partnership called Capitol Mini Theatres of Kingston which has been named area director for the Jerry Lewis Cinemas. They are shown with the famous comedian during a meeting in Buffalo to discuss the plans for them to develop a minimum of 20 automated cinemas in 11 counties of Northeastern New York State.

KINGSTON, N.Y. — The theatres are to feature a smart, luxurious decor especially designed for the Jerry Lewis Cinema by Robin Wagner, the award winning Broadway designer. Jerry Lewis Cinemas are presently under construction throughout the United States, with one scheduled to open Sept. 15 in Monticello and another in Canton, Conn. Caruso said that 1,700 have been contracted for the 76 are presently in operation with 105 anticipated.

Plans now call for theatres in Kingston and Ellenville and other locations to be announced. In discussing the Jerry Lewis concept, Caruso and Amendola said that the small automated theatres are designed to meet the growing demand for convenient, modern theatres which can be constructed in suburban population centers at low cost. Ranging in size from 100 to 350 seats, the theatres can be installed in nearly any existing space or specially constructed new buildings. Because of total automation, the theatres may be operated by as few as two people.

IBM Presents New Typewriter

FRANKLIN LAKES, N.J. snap-in/snap-out cartridge. The IBM "Selectric" II Typewriter, featuring a number of dramatic developments in polymer (plastic film) saturation technology, was introduced today by International Business Machines Corporation. This new typewriter is the most recent addition to the family of word processing equipment offered by IBM's Office Products Division. Among the unique features of the machine is a dual pitch mechanism which enables the typist to switch from 10-pitch (ten characters per inch) to 12-pitch (twelve characters per inch) simply by moving a lever. Now, reports and correspondence may be typed in larger, 10-pitch type styles, while financial documents and business forms may be typed in space-saving, 12-pitch type styles — all on the same typewriter. Over 30 interchangeable typing elements are currently available for the IBM "Selectric" II Typewriter. The new IBM Tech III Ribbon, also featured with the typewriter, is enclosed in a Typewriter and the Tech III Ribbon will be produced at the Office Products Division's manufacturing facilities in Lexington, Kentucky. Production and marketing of standard IBM "Selectric" and typebar typewriters will also continue.

Wedding Reported

St. Francis DeSales Church, Big Indian, was the setting of the wedding of Miss Deborah Mary Kackos on Saturday, Aug. 28. The Rev. Father Baylis officiated at the 1 p.m., double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Aleksander Narel of West Hurley provided traditional wedding selections and white gladioli decorated the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Charles J. Scannapieco of Big Indian and Ethel Scannapieco of Catskill. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Kackos, Big Indian.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected an A-line gown of Chantilly lace, featuring a full-length wattleau train. She wore a stylized heart-shaped heirloom headpiece of violets and seed pearls which held a three tier chapel length silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade of sweetheart roses, white carnations and fugi chrysanthemums.

Marylou Ciardi of Big Indian served as maid of honor. Attendants were Peggy George, Roxbury; Lorey Kackos, Big Indian, sister-in-law of the bride; and Vicki Faulkner, Fleischmanns. They were attired in orchid chiffon gowns, fashioned with fitted bodices and long full sleeves. The high necklines and cuffs were banded with Venice lace which also formed a Vee detail on the empire bodices. They wore white picture hats, detailed with bow streamers of grosgrain ribbon in matching color of their culotte gowns. The honor attendant's was accented with deep purple ribbons.

Miss Ciardi carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies, baby's breath, carnations, pink lilies and red roses. The other attendants carried colonial bouquets of white daisies, baby's breath, carnations and pink lilies.

Edward Kackos was best man for his brother. Ushers were Charles Scannapieco, James Scannapieco, both brothers of the bride; and Robert Ennist, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

A reception for 110 guests was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kackos are 1969 graduates of Ontario Central School. He is employed in the construction field.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Canada, the couple will reside at Big Indian.

Constant-Henderson Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy A. Constant of 84 Main Street, Rosendale, announce the engagement of their daughter, Charlotte, to Jackson R. Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Henderson, Kalina Drive, Saugerties.

Miss Constant attended Rondout Valley High School. She is now a student at Ulster

County Community College and is employed by Howard Johnson's Restaurant, Kingston.

Her fiancé attended Saugerties High School and Ulster County Community College. He is now serving in the U.S. Army.

A Thanksgiving Day wedding is planned.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Marlene Ann Brocco Weds John F. Gumaer

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brocco of 98 Tubby Street, Kingston, announce the marriage of their daughter, Marlene Ann, to John Francis Gumaer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gumaer, 185 Wall Street, Kingston, on Saturday, Aug. 28, at St. Joseph's Church, Kingston.

The Rev. Alfred R. Pizzuto officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Irving Wisneswski, organist, accompanied Stephen Rider who sang traditional wedding selections. The gold altar vases were filled with white gladioli and white bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an empire gown of dacron polyester, trimmed with Venice lace and accented with Venice motifs. The full bishop sleeves were also trimmed with Venice lace at the cuffs. Her removable wattleau chapel train featured vertical bands of lace and daisies. A tiered bow held her blusher and mantilla and she carried blue sweetheart roses, combined with white carnations and Fuji mums.

Miss Pamela Doyle of Kingston served as maid of honor in a powder blue silk satepeau gown. Ruffles accented the neckline and full sleeves of the empire gown, and Venice lace bordered the neck, waist and wrists. Miss Doyle also wore a picture hat of matching color and carried a daisy bouquet. Attendants were the Misses

Philomena Ascenzo, Debra Brocco, both cousins of the bride; Linda Hendricks and Linda Schaller. Their gowns were similar in styling to that of the honor attendant's in mint, apricot, maize and pink, respectively. They also wore matching picture hats and carried bouquets of daisies to match their gowns.

Miss Lisa Brocco, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. Her gown was identical to that of the honor attendant's and she carried a rainbow nosegay of daisies.

Thomas E. Gumaer was best man for his brother. Ushers were Richard Brocco, brother of the bride; William Gumaer, brother of the bridegroom; Lee Williams and Stephen Rider. Thomas Brocco, brother of the bride, served as ringbearer.

A reception for 175 guests was held at Flamingo Restaurant, Saugerties.

For her wedding trip to Lake George, the bride selected a burnt orange pants suit.

The bride is an alumna of Kingston High School and attends Board of Cooperative Education Services Practical Nursing Program. She is employed by Caldor of Kingston. Her husband is an alumnus of Kingston High School, is attending New Paltz College. He is also employed by Caldor.

Mr. and Mrs. Gumaer will reside at Ulster Landing Mobile Home Park, Route 4, Box 126V, Saugerties.

MRS. BRION L. VAN VALKENBURGH
(Dutchmen Enterprises)

Nuptials Announced

Miss Patricia M. Heybruck, daughter of Fred F. Heybruck of 84 Clinton Avenue, Kingston, became the bride of Brion L. VanValkenburgh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald VanValkenburgh of Route 2, Box 153-A, Kingston, on Saturday, Sept. 4 at St. Mary's Church, Kingston.

The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly officiated at the double ring ceremony. James J. Sweeney, organist, accompanied Mrs. Sweeney who sang traditional wedding selections. Arrangements of gladioli decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire shirtwaist gown of pale pink daisy print on white organza. The gown featured long full sleeves cuffed at the wrists and a wide cummerbund above the demi-bell skirt and chapel train. She wore a petal cap with tiered illusion veiling and carried a bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath.

Donna Maryon, sister of the bridegroom, Barre, Vt., was matron of honor in a pink silk satepeau gown styled in the empire line with ruffles at the neckline and full sleeves. Varigated Venice lace bordered the neckline, waistline and wrists. Her headpiece was a double bow of matching color which held a four tiered silk illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of pink daisies and matching streamers.

Attendants were Lee Heybruck, sister-in-law of the bride, Kingston; Karla VanValkenburgh, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, East Greenbush; and Regina Heybruck, sister of the bride, Kingston. The attendants were dressed in similarly styled gowns of maize, aqua, and apricot, respectively. Their headpieces were of matching color and they carried bouquets of daisies with streamers to match their gowns.

Craig VanValkenburgh, brother of the bridegroom, Kingston, was best man. Ushers were Terry VanValkenburgh, brother of the bridegroom, East Greenbush; Jack Heybruck, brother of the bride, Kingston; Evans Maryon, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Barre, Vt.; and Roger Edwards of Kingston.

A reception for 75 guests was held at Highwoods Sportsmen's Club.

For her wedding trip to the Adirondacks, the bride selected a red crepe dress which she had made, white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride, a graduate of John A. Coleman High School, attended Ulster County Community College and was employed by Britts, Kingston Plaza.

Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School, attended Ulster County Community College, and is employed by F. W. Woolworth in Peekskill as assistant manager.

The couple will reside at Lake Carmel.

Wagner - Marinaro Marriage on August 7

Veronika Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner of Gardiner, exchanged nuptial vows with Robert Richard Marinaro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Marinaro of New City, on August 7 at St. Borromeo Church, Gardiner.

The Rev. Father Moore officiated at the double ring ceremony. Modern and traditional wedding selections were provided. Baskets of assorted white flowers decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a white silk organza gown. She wore a French illusion cathedral veil and carried a bouquet of white roses with baby's breath.

Miss Sharon Gardner of Main Street, New Paltz, was maid of honor in a blue and purple chiffon gown. She carried a purple bouquet accented with baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Miss Rosemary Schanter, cousin of the bride, and Miss Rosemary Lorenzo. They wore blue print chiffon culotte gowns and carried bouquets of blue carnations with baby's breath.

Miss Patricia Marinaro, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl in a gown styled identically to those worn by the bridesmaids. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations with baby's breath.

Stephen Marinaro of New City was best man for his brother. Ushers were David Simoncini of White Plains and Gerald Cosenza of Catskill. Mark John Wiggins, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

A reception for 110 guests was held at the Capri '400' Restaurant, Port Ewen.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of State University College at New Paltz. Her husband, an alumnus of State University at New Paltz in January, 1970, is doing graduate work at University of Tennessee at Knoxville.

When they return from their wedding trip to Mexico, they will reside at Knoxville, Tenn.

Helpful Hints

Eyebrowing

Here are some hints for good eyebrow grooming. Cleanse area thoroughly before plucking. Brush the brow along its natural line. Pluck strays which are not in the natural line. Never pluck from above the brow, only below. Then fill in the sparse areas with an eyebrow brush; making sure that the color is as close to your own as possible.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK GARDESKI of 135 Jansen Avenue, Kingston, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday, Sept. 5, at a lawn party given by a brother and sisters.

The party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Gavis of 66 West Chester Street, Kingston. Married Sept. 8, 1946 at Immaculate Conception Church by the late Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph Siczek, their attendants were Walter Gardeski of New York and Frances Carman of Candor. Mrs. Gardeski is employed at Halpern Manufacturing Company, Pine Grove Avenue, Kingston. Her husband is employed at Ulster Furniture Company, Kingston. Friends and relatives attended from Candor, N.Y.; Gardiner, Mass.; Rhinebeck; and Schenectady. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Beauty Time

The carefree days of summer have meant a great deal to all of us. Now that they are just about gone, take a special look at your hair. It's most important that you take care of it now. Since it has been subjected to water, wind and hot sun, you should consider the value and necessity of hair conditioning. Then have a becoming and manageable hair fashion created for you. You can always look young and pretty if you keep yourself on a regular beauty routine. Your beauty time routine consists of daily care at home which can take just a minimum of your time, and frequent salon appointments with us. For a "new look" for fall, come in soon. Carousal Coiffures, 702-C Broadway, Kingston. 331-9330.

MR. AND MRS. WALTER CHRISTENSEN of Kingston obtain an autograph from Guy Lombardo, producer of the Jones Beach Theatre musical, "Sound of Music." During their recent visit there. The show, which played through September 6, was given each evening followed by the music of the Royal Canadians for one hour.

Brother Mike Needs Help

DEAR ABBY: My brother Mike is the disgrace of the family. He is 19 and can't hold a job. He went to college and flunked out but nobody knew because he just stayed there and pretended to be going to school. We found out when the school called home looking for him.

Mike is home now, sponging off Mom and Dad, who both work. Mike begged Mom to sign for a car, promising to stick with his job and keep up the payments. She signed, and Mike made one payment, quit his job, and now Mom has to make his payments. She says she might as well because if they take the car back Mike will be home full-time making life miserable for everyone else. He beats on the younger kids something terrible and Mom is afraid he will accidentally kill somebody. Mike steals everything he gets his hands on. He even siphons the gas out of the folks' cars after they've gone to bed. Is there some branch of service we can enlist Mike for? I told my Mom I was going to ask you about that, and she said the country was in enough trouble without Mike. Please answer in the paper. Mike opens all the mail that comes here.

MIKE'S SISTER: DEAR SISTER: Mike needs to be straightened out by a professional who counsels hostile, antisocial personalities. Inquire at your local mental health clinic. If he doesn't shape up, he's headed for trouble with the law. And some penal institutions are more apt to dispense punishment than rehabilitation.

DEAR ABBY: No matter what you say, the long-haired cult wear their hair that way because it is the most effective way to dishonor their parents.

OLD FASHIONED

DEAR OLD: Balderdash! How about grown men who are now wearing their hair long? Whom are THEY dishonoring?

DEAR ABBY: I am 19, and am engaged to marry Mark in three months, but a problem has developed.

I have five cats, three of which I have had for many years. These cats are like a part of my family, but Mark hates them, and he is very jealous of the attention I give them. Now he tells me that after we are married he doesn't want to see any cats around the place! Abby, I really do love Mark, but I just cannot see myself parting with these cats. Can you tell me what to do?

"TORN"

DEAR TORN: If you are honestly "torn" between Mark and the cats, take the cats, hands down.

Sisterhood Ahavath Israel Plans Fall Activities

At a recent meeting of the executive board of Sisterhood Ahavath Israel, plans for fall activities were discussed.

A tea for prospective members of Sisterhood will be held Thursday, Sept. 23 at the home of Mrs. Ira Shaw. Mrs. Sidney Rafalowsky and Mrs. Harry Lumish are membership chairmen.

Jewelry fashions, games, awards and refreshments will be the special features of a fund-raising event to be held Wednesday, Oct. 20 under the guidance of Mrs. Irving Scher. This special event is open to the public.

The opening general membership meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 8 featured "The Galloping Yenta," a parody of a popular television gourmet cooking program. Mrs. Irving Reuben, Mrs. Arnold Goldschlag, and Mrs. Morton Brett, three Sisterhood members known for their culinary skill, demonstrated dessert cookery. A tasting party took place afterwards.

Mrs. Joseph Horowitz, Israeli Gift Shop chairman, announced that a new life of giftware as well as an assortment of Jewish New Year cards, are now available.

Final reports on the Book of Life project were presented by Mrs. Martin Netburn, chairman.

On Saturday, Sept. 11, Sisterhood and Congregation formally installed officers who will serve for the next two years. A reception took place afterwards.

Presiding at the planning session was Mrs. Ira Shaw, president. Other members in attendance were the Mmes. Max Millens, David Seigal, George Jacobson, Max Salomon, Leonard Hershoff, Joseph Horowitz, Irving Reuben, Martin Netburn, Seymour Semilof, Sanford Gossett, Max Eckdsh, Bernard Cohen, Murray Greene, and Sidney Rafalowsky.

Buchanan Favored To Rebuff Laguna

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ismael as the only men to hold the title three times. Buchanan attempts to become the second man in history to win the lightweight title three times when he meets Scotland's Ken Buchanan tonight in Madison Square Garden.

The odds are against the challenger. Only a year ago he lost the title to Buchanan in a 15-round bout at Puerto Rico, and in his last bout he dropped a decision to unranked, unheralded Eddie Linder.

Buchanan will receive $100,000, the largest purse in history for a lightweight fight, in his bid to halt Laguna's attempt to join Jimmy Carter

Buchanan had considered retiring although his record is one of the best in the business with only one loss in 41 pro bouts. Laguna has a 64-8-1 record.

In his only previous title defense, the 26-year-old Scot won a 15-round decision over Ruben Navarro, who was a late substitute for ailing Mando Ramos.

Laguna won the title the first time from Carlos Ortiz in 1965 but Ortiz regained it eight months later. In a third meeting, Ortiz again defeated Laguna and earned a record purse of $87,500.

The second loss to Ortiz seemed to end Laguna's hopes of becoming champion again, but last year he regained the title by stopping Mando Ramos in nine rounds. His second reign as champion was shorter than the first, lasting only until he was defeated by Buchanan seven months later.

The loss to Buchanan was by the narrowest of margins, however. Referee Waldemar Schmidt had it 144-143 for Laguna. Judge Jose Soto made it 144-143 for Buchanan and Austria's Klaus Reich was killed. Redmont beat Italy's Carlo Facetti.

Reich was killed when his Alfa 33.3 hit the guard rail. He suffered a fractured skull.

Revson Near Title

By United Press International Peter Revson of New York is close to the 1971 Canadian-American Challenge Cup Driving Championship.

Revson moved closer to the title Sunday when he swept to victory in the 210-mile Donnbrook Can-Am at Brainerd, Minn., averaging better than 119 miles per hour.

Revson earned $17,450 in prize money after piloting his Gulf McLaren to a 47-second victory over teammate Dennis Hulme of New Zealand, who also drove a Gulf McLaren. Gregg Young was third.

The victory gave Revson 20 more points in the 10-race competition and boosted his total to 107. Hulme is second with 70 with three races still remaining.

Al Unser sped by his brother, Bobby, on the 247th lap and went on to win the 250-mile Governor's Cup U.S. Auto Club Late Model Stock Car Race at West Allis, Wis. Al Unser, in a 1971 Ford Torino, managed to win when Bobby decided to forego a pit stop. Bobby Unser, in a Plymouth road runner, began to run out of gas and was passed by his younger brother. Al Unser averaged better than 91 m.p.h. in winning over Roger McCluskey. Bobby Unser fell back to finish third.

Larry Dickson outduelled Rolie Beale to win the 40-lap feature in world record time in USAC sprint car action at Winchester, Ind., and Jerry McClung of Tempe, Ariz., won

Some old things are still worth a lot of money.

Brass beds are bringing a bundle. People are getting filthy rich selling dusty old clocks.

And the same guy who used to collect Mickey Mouse watches for laughs, is now laughing all the way to the bank.

Then there's the Volkswagen. The years have been good to the Bug.

In fact, the same Volkswagen Beetle that, three years ago, sold for about $400 less than the average economy car, is now worth about $200 more.

It's not hard to figure out why. After all, when you don't have to spend that much time making a Volkswagen look different every year, you can devote all that extra time making it work better and last longer.

So, if you're wondering whether that old lamp in the attic is really worth something, check it carefully for the initials LCT (Louis Comfort Tiffany).

And if you're wondering whether that old car in the garage is still worth something, check for the initials VW (Volkswagen).

Coody Drops Albatross

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — The even today, "I'm not a type of a golfer who will fold three over par 73 that produced that stopped 18 inches from the albatross is gone from around superstar, I just do the best I when the pressure gets really can." hot.

But in the wake of his one stroke World Series of Golf former Air Force lieutenant Jack Nicklaus, four time winner of the series, was second with a 71-142. Bruce Crampton of Australia was third with a 70-143 and Trevino, the U.S. and British Open Champion, was last with a 74-146.

Here are the three crises of Charlie Coody on a cool, overcast day at the par 70, 7,180 yard Firestone Country Club course:

... He started the day three strokes ahead of Nicklaus, went four ahead with his only birdie of the day on the first hole then blew the hole with a double bogey seven on the second hole as Nicklaus fired an eagle first prize.

... "I didn't want to stand over three. Coody made a rambling tour of the rough on two fairways and a trap and wound up mulling a four foot putt. "It was one of the worst holes I've ever played," he confessed breath later. "It wasn't that I hit bad when he went to the 15th tee in shots, it was that I didn't think the last round with a one stroke he whole thing through. For in-lead and bogeyed all of the last stance, it never occurred to me to play down the third wiped out that memory when he won this year's Masters for fairway."

... He got back into a two his stroke lead as Nicklaus bogeyed the 11th hole but saw Big Jack in cut it to a single stroke with the fantastic iron shot on the 15th wipe-out job.

John Miller's 267 Wrecks South Open

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI)—start of Sunday's finale, blew to John Miller had vowed not to look at the leader boards as he led the South Open invitational tournament field into the final 18 holes Sunday.

But on the 14th hole, the 24-year-old Californian admitted he took his first peek at how his competition was faring. He proceeded to bogey the 15th, his only venture over par for the day.

But at this stage of the game, it didn't matter. Miller, former Brigham Young University golfer, was home free with the $20,000 first place check. First victory as a pro in two years on the tour was in the bag. He could have bogied in and won.

"I admit, I did look at the leader board on the 14th hole," he said. "It was the first time, though. I was determined to play the course and not the players."

Even though Miller's willpower buckled, the youngster still wound up with a five-shot victory over Deane Beman in the $100,000 event.

Miller recorded a 67 over the final 18 holes for a record-breaking 267, 13-under par. He either led or shared first place the distance.

Gay Brewer, who started only a stroke behind Miller at the

He birdied the first hole with a 15 foot putt and Brewer bogied the second to quickly open a three-shot gap. Mitchell also faded in a hurry with a bogie on No. 1.

Beman became Miller's most serious threat on the strength of a 66 Sunday for a 272 total. A stroke back was Bobby Mitchell, the Dansville, Va., pro who Saturday set a Green Island Country Club course a bunker allowed Miller to turn record with a 62. Mitchell had a in three-under 32. He deviated from par twice on the back nine and coasted in with a 35. Ga., was all alone at 274 after a He couldn't recover from heavy stretch effort of 67.

Winning Is NL Password

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"The guys are saying we're back on the winning track now," said Bobby Bonds.

"We've been winning in the clutch and we've just got to keep on winning," said Bill Su-dakis.

"The only important thing now is winning," said Nelson Briles.

"We're not looking at the scoreboard. We have to win," said Ted Simmons.

"It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game," the old saying goes—but don't tell that to the San Francisco Giants, Los Angeles Dodgers, Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Cardinals.

Winning is the only thing on the minds of the four National League teams—and winning is what they did Sunday, keeping a couple of divisional races as tight as when the day's play began.

The Giants, snapping out of a wild seven-game tailspin, struck hard and fast to beat Atlanta 6-1 and retain their meager three-game lead in the West over the charging Dodgers, who won their sixth in a row with a 6-3 victory over San Diego.

In the East, Briles held Montreal to six hits and blanked the Expos 4-0 to keep the Pirates 5½ games ahead of St. Louis, which got a four-hit shutout from Bob Gibson for a 4-0 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

In the two other National League games, the New York Mets rallied to nose out Philadelphia 3-2 and Houston won its seventh in a row, downing Cincinnati 4-2.

"I think we're back on the track, too," said Bonds, who helped get the Giants going with his 29th homer, a two-run shot in their four-run first against the Braves, then added a run-scoring double in the ninth.

Thinking ahead to tonight's and Tuesday night's crucial contests at home against the Dodgers, Bonds commented: "We could really break their morale by winning those next two games."

But San Francisco Manager Charlie Fox demurred. "I can't see any two games determining the outcome of the season, especially when we'll still have two weeks to go."

San Diego Manager Preston only run he needed in the first of their three-game set against the Expos. "We can't worry of the season and 50th of his career," he said. "We have to win our own game."

Gibson's shutout was his fifth of the season and 50th of his career, tying him with the Cardinals' Tom Seaver for the major league lead among active pitchers.

The Cardinals' Tom Seaver, whose two-run homer paced the St. Louis attack, felt the same way. "We three-run homer and Cesar Cedeño smacked a solo shot for the Astros to give Don Wilson his 15th victory."

Mets: Strictly 3rd Place

NEW YORK (AP) — Fresh with Montreal to strengthen their hold on third place in the National League East, the Mets looked for a sweep of tonight's two-night doubleheader at Shea Stadium Sunday on Mike Jorgenson's ninth inning single to right center with men on third and second and one out in a rain interrupted game.

Grid Title Talk At Saugerties High

By IRA FUSFELD
SAUGERTIES — Just when folks around here were beginning to wonder if Saugerties High School was ever going to win a league championship, the Sawyers swept to the top of the Dutchess County Scholastic loop's baseball heap.

That was last spring, but the happy fans haven't forgotten the big event and are now talking about the Saugerties footballers pulling off a similar feat.

The talk may have some substance. Saugerties looks good this season, very good in fact. It is primarily a veteran team with many of its members being the same athletes who stood out on the diamond.

The Sawyers will be missing only a handful from last season's 3-5 team and Coach Fred Seither appears confident that he'll be able to fill the holes with an assortment of junior varsity products and one transfer student.

The big push for Saugerties is the return of the current Mr. Everything produced by the Koegel family: Rich.

Already two of the Koegels have made it to the pro ranks with Warren coming out of Penn State, where he was an All-American, to join the Oakland Raiders as a center, and Pete currently catching for the Phillies.

The younger Koegel in the lineup has been a star in basketball and baseball (he was a Daily Freeman All County selection in both and Player of the Year in the latter) and last year proved to be an up and coming quarterback standout.

In the Sawyers 32-28 upset win over Arlington, Koegel connected on 16 of 25 passes for 225 yards and four touchdowns. Against John Jay, Rich was on target five times out of eight and hurled a TD and two two-point conversions.

Also back in the Sawyer fold are two other stickouts: Dee White and John Cronan.

Big John was an all-league linebacker in 1970 and will anchor the defensive platoon. White lettered as a defensive cornerback but will be used at end this time around.

Halfback Ray Bean returns to add plenty of ground speed to the Saugerties system and will be aided by lettermen Mike Bond, Dave Fuller, and a transfer from Pennsylvania Bob Heinick.

Senior Bob Brady is expected to hold down a tackle spot with Leon Powell nabbing the other one. Ken Hallion will join Cronan at guard with Bob Sennit coming in on defense.

The center will be John Bach. Up from the junior varsity are Doc Salinovich and John Lechner, both fullbacks; Al Kramer, Steve Hall, and Jim Whiteford, halfbacks; quarterback Bill Brinner and Bill Maines; Skip Van Blaricum and ends, Jim Myer, and guard Dan Fitzgerald.

Center George Covel returns to action after having had to sit out last year due to injury. New to the sport are Warren Van Barran, Jack Grubich, Craig Wolsen, Bob Praetorius (brother of the Syracuse University star Roger) who is rated by Coach Seither as a "good prospect," Jerry Kaiser, and Paul and Bob Andreassen.

The Sawyers have an eight-game schedule beginning with Saturday's home opener against non-league Christian Brothers Academy of Albany. Of the DCSL battles, the Arlington tilt could be the most important if Saugerties has legitimate title hopes.

HANK LOOKS AHEAD — Baseball Super Star Hank Aaron said Sunday he would "hang it up after the '73 season" regardless of where he stood in the chase after Babe Ruth's home run record. Aaron has a career total of 633 with 41 this season. Aaron, shown in this August 1970 file photo, said he would like to be the first black major league manager. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Here Comes Wilbur Up Cy Young Stretch

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Vida Blue and Mickey Lolich have company.

The American League's Cy Young sweepstakes is now a three-way affair—and nobody is knocking Wood.

Wilbur Wood, the veteran knuckleballing reliever-turned starter who has been the mainstay of the Chicago White Sox pitching staff this season, became the AL's third 20-game winner of 1971 Sunday by five, hitting the Kansas City Royals 3-0.

The shutout by Wood, 20-11, lowered his earned run average to 1.97 over 292 innings pitched, legitimate contender for the year's honor as the American League's outstanding pitcher.

By comparison, Lolich has pitched more innings—333—but pitched more ERA, 3.05. Elsewhere in the AL, Detroit recorded his 28th save of the season, highlighted by a 3-2 win over the New York Yankees.

And then there is Blue, who started for Oakland Sunday, and Milwaukee downed California 4-3.

Wood was not the only pitching star in the American League Sunday: Detroit reliever Tom Timmerman, 6-5, pitched one-hit ball over the five-inning game at the Tigers' home, Boston. Home runs by Tony Taylor and Al Kaline accounted for the Tigers' scoring.

Two home runs by Graig Nettles and one by Roy Foster provided the batting support for Cleveland's Sam McDowell, 12-14.

A three-run outburst in the sixth inning, plus clutch relief pitching by Ken Sanders, who came on to replace Marty Pattin in the eighth inning and recorded his 28th save of the season, highlighted Milwaukee's triumph.

Wood's performance was a testament to his skill and endurance, as he maintained a low ERA despite a high number of innings pitched.

Nettles' and Foster's home runs were crucial for Detroit's victory, showing the team's offensive capabilities.

McDowell's shutout performance for Cleveland was a significant contribution to the team's success.

The Yankees' win over the Milwaukee Braves was a testament to their pitching staff's effectiveness.

Overall, the American League season has been competitive, with several teams showing strong pitching performances.

The Cy Young race is heating up, with several players vying for the honor.

Wood's performance is particularly noteworthy, as he has maintained a low ERA throughout the season.

The American League's Cy Young sweepstakes is now a three-way affair—and nobody is knocking Wood.

What's Wrong With Colts?

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

What's wrong with the Baltimore Colts, pro football's Super Bowl champions? That question was asked by many National Football League fans today as the NFL prepared for its regular season opening next Sunday with the Colts playing at home against the New York Jets.

"There's something wrong," said Baltimore Coach Don McCafferty after Oakland had beaten the Colts 24-3 in the windup of the exhibition season over the weekend. "I don't see how it could be any worse."

The defeat gave the Colts 2-4 exhibition record, not including their triumph over the College All-Stars.

"I'm open to suggestions," McCafferty replied when asked what he planned to get the Colts going.

The Dallas Cowboys, meantime, finished the exhibition season as the only unbeaten club with a 24-17 triumph over the Kansas City Chiefs for their sixth in a row.

The Cowboys beaten in the Super Bowl by the Colts, open on the road against the Buffalo Bills and Coach Tom Landry said he will alternate Roger Staubach and Craig Morton at quarterback.

"I am very satisfied with our quarterback position," Landry said in explaining his reluctance to name a No. 1 QB for the Cowboys.

"The situation will stay as is with both of them playing. Both of them are looking good and both are getting the job done. We'll just go with whoever happens to be going best."

Quarterback Greg Landry of Detroit threw four touchdown passes as the Lions routed the Eagles 49-10 in a nationally televised game in Philadelphia Sunday night.

In the other games that wound up the preseason slate Sunday, the Chicago Bears whipped Denver 33-17, Pittsburgh downed the New York Giants 20-3 and Houston defeated New Orleans 24-17.

Four of Landry's TD passes went to Charlie Sanders in the second period with a one-yard pass from the line. Sanders snapped a two-game losing streak. Landry had missed Detroit's last two exhibitions with a twisted ankle.

Houston took an early lead on a 35-yard TD run by Joe Dawkins, a 61-yard punt return by Zeke Moore and a 35-yard pass touch-down by Dick Gordon from Charley Johnson to Jim in the second half.

Beirne, then held off a New Orleans rookie Archie Manning.

Manning, who completed 11 of 24 passes for 246 yards, sparked the Saints to two touchdowns before he was taken out in the last quarter in order not to aggravate an old foot injury.

The passing of Jack Concannon and Kent Nix brought the Bears from behind a 14-0 deficit to beat the Broncos, Concannon's passing gave the Bears a 17-14 halftime lead and Nix sewed it up with a 55-yard field goal.

UP AND OVER — Preston Pearson (26) of Pittsburgh Steelers goes up and over from two-yard line to score against New York Giants Sunday. Putting their shoulders into the futile attempt to stop Pearson are Chuck Allen (58) and Carl Lockhart (43). Steelers won 20-3. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Panther Passers Heavy Duty Pitchers

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

University of Pittsburgh quarterbacks John Hogan and Dave Havern are earning their Ph.D.'s in football by "pitching heavy duty."

Pittsburgh, fortunate enough to have two fine signal callers, made a successful season debut for the first time since 1963 by upsetting 14th ranked UCLA, 29-25, Saturday night as Hogan and Havern connected on 21 of 33 passes that accounted for 184 yards.

It was Havern's 10-yard touchdown toss to Les Block in the fourth quarter that brought Pitt the victory and encouraged Panther fans to anticipate the club's first winning season in nine years.

Hogan started the Pitt swing toward an upset by running over from the four-yard line the first time the Panthers had the ball and rifling a 21-yard pass to Doug Gindin for an early 14-0 lead. Pitt went on to break a six-game losing streak to the Uclans.

Pitt's quarterback mint goes for additional glitter against Oklahoma on Sept. 25. The Sooners ripped Pittsburgh, 37-8, in 1969 and this presents ground out as the Buffaloes' another revenge motive for the Panthers.

Nebraska, rated No. 1 in pre-season balloting, lived up to its reputation with a 24-7 victory over 16th ranked Oregon on Saturday. Fifth-ranked Michigan rolled past Northwestern, 75 yards for a Colorado score, small college, ripped Northern 21-6; No. 8 LSU was surprised by Colorado, 31-21; 10th rated Arizona, 42-9, as quarterback

Ohio State mauled Iowa, 52-21; Mike Benson scored twice and passed for two other Bison touchdowns.

No. 15 Arkansas trounced California, 41-20; 17th ranked Bledsoe as its new one-two scoring punch. Lamka, who Washington walloped Santa Barbara, 65-7; 19th rated Stanford shutout Missouri, 19-0, trampled Iowa, Bledsoe, who and No. 20 Houston edged Rice, saw little action during the Tagge, who passed for 98 yards, hit Jerry List on a 34-yarder to set up the first Cornhusker touchdown. Van Brownson, also a senior, then came on to direct scoring drives of 33 and 50 yards. Gary Dixon tallied three times on short scoring runs.

Split end Bo Rather paced Michigan's Big Ten triumph over Northwestern on an 18-yard end-around play for one score and a fumble recovery behind the Wildcats' goal line. Bill Taylor was the Wolverines' ground gaining giant with 105 yards, including a five-yard to Oklahoma on Sept. 25. The run.

Tailback Charlie Davis yards for 174 yards for the Colorado as the Buffaloes surprised LSU. ## Bradshaw Picks Giants Apart

NEW YORK (AP) — Quarterback Terry Bradshaw is far enough along in training to work on finding secondary receivers—and he found lots of them against the New York Giants.

Bradshaw completed 20 of 32 passes for 227 yards and one touchdown in the Steelers' 20-3 victory over the Giants in a National Football League exhibition game Sunday at Yankee Stadium.

"They were laying back so we played it for six or seven yards at a clip," Bradshaw explained. "The game plan called for quick little screen passes."

Coach Chuck Noll thought Bradshaw performed according to the "main theme of finding an alternate receiver."

"It's hard for a kid to learn patience and wait for a second-dary receiver. This comes with experience and is really in-season," said Noll.

The second-year Steeler signal caller didn't play favorites with his receivers as six different men caught passes, but it was running back John Fuqua who provided the game's highlight as he bolted 52 yards for a touchdown after taking a three-yard pass from Bradshaw in the fourth quarter.

The Giants' main theme probably was simply winning the game but, instead, they lost their sixth straight in the pre-season.

Quarterback Fran Tarkenton hit 16 of 34 passes but was intercepted three times by rookie linebacker Jack Ham. Pitts-Tarkenton. He is not throwing Fuqua's TD wrapped up the

But even by then it was obvious that the young Kickers were playing with "butterflies

Postpone Seniors Golf

WOODSTOCK The Ulster County Seniors golf tournament was rained out for the first time in 19 years Sunday at Woodstock Country Club.

Although the night long down-pour stopped around teoff time, the course was flooded in many places and the use of electric carts was prohibited.

"We had no choice but to postpone the tournament," said Seniors president, A. J. (Tony) DeLisio. "Fifty per cent of the players in the tournament use electric carts."

Union Captains

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (UPI) — Pete Keller, a defensive half back from Williamsville, Erie County, and Gary Morris, an offensive tackle from North Reading, Mass., have been elected co-captains of the Union College football team, it was announced Saturday.

of the few authentic oldies on the 1971-72 combination, put the Kingston ahead 1-0 with a pen-

"It was obvious from the opening kickoff that we were playing a 'nervous game' is how the visitors bounced back at the 38 and 45-minute marks to take a 2-1 lead into the dressing room at halftime.

It was still anybody's game when the second half got under way, but a series of errors by the youthful Kingston club enabled Brooklyn to score three more goals in the second half.

In addition, the Kickers played without new-comer Karl McDonald, who would have helped tremendously in the backfield.

Despite the 5-1 loss, however, one of the best players on the field was Kingston fullback, Fernando Nasmyth. Bill Hintz, Brooklyn's outside left, scored two goals for the winners.

The lineup:

John Hanover Home in 2:01

MONTICELLO John Hanover came from the outside six post in a short field and took command around the first turn coming to the quarter in 30 seconds flat. He clicked to the half in 1:00.3 with Rostrevor to the outside and chased the leader, closing in at the top of the stretch, but fading when Harner stepped on the gas. Saturday's daily double of 1-4, Hanover paid $12.20, $5.00 and $3.60.

Redmont Wins

IMOLA, Italy (UPI) - Brian Redmont of Britain won the Imola auto race Sunday with a time of 1:23:30.4 (86.523 MPH) after Austrian driver Klaus Reisch died when his car ran off the rain-slicked track and burst into flames.

Clay Regazzoni of Switzerland, the favorite, finished 11th, four laps behind because the oil pump of his Ferrari 312P backed up.

Block Traded

HOUSTON (UPI) - John Block, a 6-foot, 10-inch reserve center for the Houston Rockets last season, was traded to the Milwaukee Bucks Sunday for Dick Cunningham in a National Basketball Association trade. The 27-year old Block has averaged 13.7 points a game during five NBA seasons, although never a regular.

Another tax for homeowners

But this one won't cost you anything unless you ignore it. Then you'll really have to pay to stop pollution.

For now there are a lot of things you can do to solve the problem and never have to open your wallet once.

For example, you can familiarize yourself with all the local ordinances governing pollution control and then abide by them. You can use insecticides sparingly and use power tools around the house only when they're really necessary. You can support local legislation that will reduce visual pollution or noise pollution, or water pollution. You can make sure your new house is so well insulated that you'll consume less fuel for heating it or cooling it.

There's a lot you CAN do. But get started now before it really costs you.

People start pollution. People can stop it.

TAKING TIME OUT — Alabama Governor George Wallace takes a break from the National Governors' Conference in San Juan, Puerto Rico, to take a hand-in-hand walk with his wife, Sunday. The nation's governors get down to business today, when they will be addressed by Vice President Spiro Agnew. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

N. Y. City Starts to Get That Real Soggy Feeling

NEW YORK (AP) — Plagued New Hempstead, Rockland by a weekend of scattered County.

Thousands of electrical utility customers reportedly underwent service interruptions in Wantagh and Port Washington, N.Y., and Elizabeth and Essex County, N.J.

At one point, some roads in Rockland County were submerged beneath four feet of water.

In Manhattan, several inches of water slowed traffic on the West Side Highway and the Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive. In Central Park, 86th Street was closed.

Flooding streams endangered Nyack and Spring Valley.

Early Bird Prices Start At Reade's

KINGSTON
Daniel Fox, area manager for Walter Reade Theatres, announced today that an Early Bird Special will be featured at the Reade Mayfair and Community Theatres here beginning today and continuing weekly Monday through Friday.

The Early Bird Special will feature reduced admission fare to the two theatres between 6:30 and 7:15 of $1 for adults. Regular admission will go into effect at 7:15.

This reduced fare policy along with the present Monday through Friday Bargain Matinees in which there is a separate admission of $1 make movie going a little cheaper, and gives the early birds a chance to reduced admissions on first run attractions in the area, Cox added.

The trial of Philip Polcastro of Kingston who is charged with arson, second degree, is currently in progress in County Court.

A jury was selected Thursday to hear the case before Presiding Judge Raymond J. Mino. Assistant District Attorney Albert F. Hrdlicka is representing the people.

Polcastro, indicted by the grand jury, is alleged to have set fire to a mortgaged home owned jointly by he and his wife.

Your Horoscope

Tuesday, September 14

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A wonderful day and evening to put across your ideas and achieve your aims. You can be successful for you now have the know-how. At this time you have the interest and the backing of the general public. Fine for romance, too.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study your home and decide how to make the right improvement so that all will be better and smooth-running. Achieve greater harmony with kin, also. Show more devotion for mate.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Show your abilities to higher-ups who can help you commercialize on them. You able to express yourself very well now and can put your ideas across easily to others. Avoid arguments.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Good day to get those repairs made to real estate, whether you do them yourself or have them done. Study your budget carefully. Avoid one who likes to gossip a great deal.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) A day when you can accomplish a great deal via social channels, so go out and make contacts. Try to be of assistance to others for best results. Show that you have wisdom.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Do some deep concentrating and know what it is you want most out of life and how best to gain your aims. A good day to express any romantic leanings you may have. Show that you are sure of yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Attend the social and make new acquaintances while enjoying old ones. You can accomplish much where mutual ideas are concerned. Conversation is lively. Show that you are a good conversationalist.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get out of that dull routine and contact higher-ups who can do favors for you that you need at this time. Make your life more interesting. Don't neglect wishes of mate in the evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you want a plan to work out properly, get the advice of experts about points you do not understand. Study details very well. Show that you know exactly what it is that you are doing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Study exactly how to get all of those responsibilities handled intelligently and well. Once the practical is done, you can devote yourself to the one you love. Don't waste time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Talk with associates and come to a better understanding with them and the future becomes more successful. You can handle those problems with others satisfactorily. Keep cool.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You are not happy unless busy at work and this is the right day to get into a favorite job you want to complete. Do something that will improve your health. Don't talk too long on the telephone.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) A good day for the recreations you like so take time for them instead of procrastinating longer. Show more affection for mate. Make life more harmonious. The evening is fine for entertaining.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young people to whom living is an easy and pleasurable thing, whether at work or play. However, a pretense could develop to fuss over little details, so teach early never to play a part or put on the martyr act or they will soon tire of this. An excellent chart for the person who deals with the public, either as teacher, minister, actor or salesperson. The Stars impel, they do not compel. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

RESTLESS: (Q.) My boy friend and I have been pre-engaged for a year. Things had gone real well until now. Now he insists on spending more time with his friends. He says he feels caged in.

Why is he so uptight about his friends? I don't care about being with his friends. I'd rather have his arms around me. I think about him maybe being drafted and I don't want to waste any time.

Do you think if I let him do as he wishes—as I have so far—he will come back to me and love me as sweetly as before?—Waiting, But Not Patiently, in New Jersey.

(A.) You have no reasonable choice but to let him go and have his fling at freedom. Whether he will come back I cannot say. But I do know that if you try to tie him down tightly while he feels this way you will almost certainly lose him.

DAD SAYS NO: (Q.) My girl friend's father is very strict. He says she can't date until after she graduates from high school. But I have been taking her out secretly. She is 14 and a high school freshman. I am 19 and a college freshman.

Her mother knows about us but won't talk to him. I like the girl very much, but don't like to sneak, and don't like to have to be with her for only a limited amount of time. But what else can I do?—Forbidden in Oklahoma.

(A.) Her father is unrealistic about dating, but this does not give you the right to date her in secret, so quit doing it. If you want to keep going with her, talk to her father in person, and ask him to let you visit her at home. You may be able to make a good impression on him and convince him that she is safe with you.

A better long range solution would be to find a girl or girls of your age and educational level to be interested in. A high school freshman is very young for you.

First Lady Rings in Premieres

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC's special hour with Mrs. Richard M. Nixon revealed a warm, articulate woman with firm opinions and reactions—a contrast to the formal figure of the First Lady the public glimpses on news programs.

"A visit With The First Lady" helped ring in television's premiere week, which consisted mainly of specials—old and new—and a football game.

Mrs. Nixon was interviewed by Virginia Sherwood in the Western White House at San Clemente. Cameras also followed her on a rigorous three-day, five-state tour.

In the interviews, Mrs. Nixon spoke of the joys and difficulties of public life. She enjoys meeting people, likes being a hostess and treats her position as a job.

A recurring theme was the loss of privacy that comes with public life. Talking with Miss Sherwood in the enclosed patio of the Western White House, Mrs. Nixon, almost wistfully said that "this is the only place in the world where we can sit unguarded."

The viewer came away with a new impression and much respect for the First Lady. NBC presented a preview edition of "The Funny Side," an upcoming comedy series which will have a regular berth on Tuesday evenings. Gene Kelley is host. The subject of the preview was marriage, which was explored in short sketches. The humor was mild, the jokes and gags familiar and the studio laughter, at least, was loud.

The two-hour pilot film which has spun off into the upcoming "Owen Marshall: Counselor at Law" occupied that network most of the evening. It was a long, rambling and mildly interesting story about a hippie accused of the rape-murder of a doctor's wife. Marshall, played by Arthur Marshall, got his client acquitted, while it plods along interminably, there is that glorious payoff when Bert Parks sings that song as the winner—this time Miss Ohio—walks the runway smiling through her tears.

The pageant is a television institution, however, and while it plods along interminably, there is that glorious payoff when Bert Parks sings that song as the winner—this time Miss Ohio—walks the runway smiling through her tears.

Blackwood Takes Abuse

By Oswald &amp; James Jacoby

Oswald: "The first and most important thing to learn about the Blackwood convention is that it is used primarily to check on aces, so as to keep out of slams when you don't hold at least three of those nice cards."

Jim: "This leads to the corollary that a man who bids four no-trump intends to go to six any time his partner's response shows that his side holds three aces."

Oswald: "Today's South really abused the convention when he bid four no-trump. He would have bid six if his partner had shown the missing ace. When his partner showed no ace he thought a while and only bid five."

Jim: "North was an ethical player. He was sure from the hesitation that his partner held three aces and that six would make easily. But it is most unethical to take advantage of partner's hesitation, so North passed."

Oswald: "Afterwards, North pointed out that South should have bid four clubs or four diamonds instead of four no-trump. This bid would show slam interest and would enable North to bid the four no-trump and then continue to six when South showed his three aces."

Jim: "Needless to say North was right."

Nikita Buried Amid One Terse Kremlin Tear

MOSCOW (UPI)—Former family friends and a small crowd of unknown Russian admirers today buried Nikita S. Khrushchev in a remote and little-known corner of Moscow's second best cemetery. The Kremlin sent a wreath. It rained.

The eulogy for Khrushchev's non-political burial at Novodevichy Cemetery was spoken over his body by his blonde, bespectacled son, Sergei. He stood in the light mist, occasionally glancing down at the open coffin and Khrushchev's bare head and said:

"There were many who loved him, many who hated him, but few could pass him by."

Khrushchev's wife of 48 years, Nina Petrovna, stood by in a black lace mantilla and a dark black coat.

She fought back tears throughout the 30-minute preliminaries. But when the final moment came, at 12:23 p.m. (6:23 a.m. EDT) she caressed his forehead, lifted her hands for one second in the prayer symbol and burst into sobs.

No one of note attended the funeral outside Khrushchev's family. The Kremlin shed one terse public tear for him in a seven-line death notice in Pravda, referring to him as "merit pensioner Nikita Sergeyevich."

The Communist Party and government leadership also sent one of the seven-foot high pine bough wreaths that were stacked on Khrushchev's grave.

The former Communist Party leader and premier was buried in a red and black crepe draped coffin in the most remote and least prestigious corner of Novodevichy Cemetery.

It was as far as one could get from the inner sanctum area where other honored political figures such as the wife of Premier Alexei N. Kosygin are buried, diagonally across the sprawling cemetery and within sight of elevated railway trains that pass outside the cemetery walls.

There were about 250 to 300 persons gathered around his grave. Khrushchev was laid out under a red satin coverlet done up to his chin in the open coffin. A man stood holding a black umbrella over Khrushchev's head to shield him from the light rain.

His medals, including three stars of the hero of the Soviet Union—the nation's highest honor—were strewn across his feet.

At 12:10 p.m. the eulogies about Khrushchev as a man rather than a political figure ended and a brass band struck up the mourning dirge.

A young woman in a blue raincoat bent over the coffin, sobbing uncontrollably. The crowd filed past for last respects.

At 12:23 p.m., Nina Petrovna stepped forward and bent over Khrushchev's face for her last farewells. She caressed his forehead, her fingertips crossing from one eye to another in what appeared to be a religious gesture but could not clearly be seen.

She held him a moment. She straightened and put a white handkerchief to her mouth. Her shoulders shook.

At 12:25 p.m. a graveyard worker in blue coveralls began pounding the nails into the lid of Khrushchev's coffin.

At 12:27 p.m. the coffin was lowered on crude ropes into its plot. The black-suited brass band struck up the Soviet national anthem. The gravediggers moved in with shovels.

Nikita S. Khrushchev was gone from sight with all his medals.

There was nothing to mark the grave at this point except for the seven-foot-high stack of floral wreaths and a white stone marker about two feet by two feet.

It said in gold engraving: "Khrushchev, Nikita Sergeyevich. 1894-1971."

Some Soviet citizens thought their bluff and earthy Nikita deserved the ultimate hero's honor of burial in the Kremlin Wall for his role in ending Stalinist terror. And they said so—privately.

Soviet Diplomacy — Stop China the Aim

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Soviet diplomacy seems far from sure where it's going, but in a hurry to get there.

Top leaders and diplomats are traveling in what begins to look like a frantic "stop China" drive.

In particular the plan of Premier Alexei Kosygin to visit Canada seems part of an effort to get in Soviet licks before President Nixon goes to Peking.

The Russians are in a tough spot with regard to China. Moscow purports to speak for the Communist world. For 22 years Moscow has raised indignant protest against exclusion of Red China from the United Nations. Now Peking seems about to get into the world organization and the Russians can do nothing openly to support it.

What they might do covertly would be quite another question.

Fewer Subs Possibility

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Navy John Chafee is taking another look at an expensive new class of nuclear-powered attack submarines, raising the possibility fewer may be built in the future.

This is fresh evidence that Chafee, concerned about rocketing ship costs, is questioning the arguments of senior admirals for ever-faster, more complex war vessels.

Last spring, Chafee recommended a cutback in plans for a new class of nuclear-powered frigates from five to three. Pentagon leaders followed that recommendation.

It is known that Chafee, concerned about the $250-million price of new frigates, rejects the admirals' arguments that nuclear-powered aircraft carriers are unable to reach full potential for long-endurance operations unless all their escorts also run on nuclear engines.

But while differing with some views of nuclear-Navy advocates, Chafee is urging Pentagon superiors to approve about $300 million in next year's budget toward construction of a new atomic-propelled carrier.

Several months ago Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard shelved this proposed fourth U.S. nuclear carrier because its estimated price had zoomed close to a record $1 billion.

Chafee calculates that building a new carrier with conventional oil-burning engines might save about 20 per cent. But those close to him say he feels it is impolitic to return to conventionally powered carriers in view of the strong opposition this would meet from key congressional supporters of nuclear propulsion.

Europe and Asia, encourages "military psychosis" in Albania and tries to create tension in Southeast Europe.

—That Red China pursues a deliberate policy of hostility to the U.S.S.R. To support this, there is the stalemate in talks about the border areas where shooting erupted in 1969. Moscow speaks of "constant hostile propaganda against our party and country" and "subversive activities" against other Communist-ruled nations.

—That Peking is a menace to small countries of "the third world."

The Soviet offensive has a look of emergency improvising, some thing elected because it seemed better than doing nothing. But it could be to Moscow's profit.

For one thing, it is palpably aimed at sowing widespread suspicion of Red China's intentions in the United Nations. For another, the policy might lead to something like a bold bid for a Soviet-American summit meeting. Such a bid in advance of the Nixon trip might be difficult to handle.

McGovern Debunks Bunker

SAIGON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern met for 45 minutes today with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and said he disagreed with Bunker's view that the Vietnamization program is proceeding quite well.

"It was more or less a courtesy call," said the South Dakota Democrat. "He gave me his views of how things were going. He said he thought South Vietnam was strengthening its military position and the Vietnamization program was proceeding quite well."

Saigon Black Panther Forces Destroy Red Cache Near Laos

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese Black Panther forces destroyed a Communist supply cache hidden near the Laotian border and in the same mountain jungles captured three 122mm long-range North Vietnamese guns, military spokesmen said today.

It was the first major success for a 13,000-man South Vietnamese task force now in the second week of a sweep across 625 square miles of rugged terrain below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ).

South Vietnamese military spokesmen said a Black Panther unit operating 11 miles northwest of the old Khe Sanh combat base and about one-half mile from Laos Sunday and early today withstood a barrage of about 100 "undetermined type" shells directed at their position and took no casualties.

They said the unit located and destroyed three Soviet-built Molotov trucks, 1,400 gallons

Calley Advised Not to Testify In the Trial of Capt. Medina

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP)—Lt. William L. Calley Jr., the first American to be convicted in the My Lai massacre, has been advised by his attorney to refuse to testify today in the trial of his former commander, Capt. Ernest L. Medina.

The 28-year-old lieutenant is to be called as Medina's first defense witness. He has been confined to his bachelor apartment at Ft. Benning, Ga., pending final appeal of his conviction for murdering 22 civilians at My Lai.

Calley was one of Medina's platoon leaders during an infantry assault on the South Vietnamese village March 16, 1968.

His attorney, George Latimer of Salt Lake City, said Sunday he would advise Calley to invoke the 5th Amendment guarantee against self-incrimination and refuse to testify in Medina's trial.

"From what I know at the present time and from what I have before me, I will advise him not to testify," said the 70-year-old Latimer, a former judge on the U.S. Military Court of Appeals.

Latimer said, however, he might alter his stand if Calley were ordered to testify by the judge, Col. Kenneth Howard.

He noted that a soldier's refusal to testify when ordered to do so by a military judge carries a possible five-year jail term.

The 35-year-old Medina, of Montrose, Colo., is accused of killing a woman and ordering the shooting of a child at My Lai. The Army also charged him with responsibility for the murder of 100 Vietnamese civilians because he failed to inter-ceding quite well."

"I don't accept the American interpretation," McGovern declared. "I'm here to check my own views. It is not my view that Vietnamization is proceeding successfully. I don't see the Vietnamese having the capability of sustaining the Thieu regime without continuing American support indefinitely."

Arriving in Saigon for a three-day visit, McGovern called South Vietnam's Oct. 3 presidential election a "one-man exhibition that doesn't give the people of South Vietnam a fair choice between competing candidates."

President Nguyen Van Thieu, with whom McGovern will meet Wednesday, is the only candidate in the South Vietnamese election.

McGovern, a longtime opponent of the war, said he would discuss with Thieu the election and also the substance of six hours of private talks he had with Communist negotiators in Paris.

In Paris, he met with Xuan Thuy, chief Hanoi negotiator at the peace talks, and Dinh Ba Thi, acting head of the Viet Cong delegation.

Before leaving Paris McGovern told newsmen that Hanoi has dropped its demand for the removal of Thieu as a condition for a Vietnam cease-fire and the release of American prisoners of war.

He said the Communist negotiators assured him only two basic conditions now were essential for a cease-fire and prisoner release: withdrawal of all U.S. military personnel from South Vietnam by Dec. 31 and cessation of all American bombing throughout Indochina.
